3 CONVICTS SHOT IN ATTEMPTED ESCAPE AT JEFFERSON CITY

With Fourth Man They Disarm Guard and Flee After Beating Two Men Unconscious in Prison Factory.

ONE OF WOUNDED IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Captured After They Had Gone Through Gate and Were About to Try to Escape on Engine.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 13.—

Three convicts escaped from the Missouri Penitentiary at 10 o'clock this morning after knocking a guard and a shop foreman into insensibility, but were recaptured. Three were shot by guards. One probably will die, but the other two were only slightly injured.

The convicts were Joe Kenny, Dick Kennedy, Sam Taylor and Dan M. Hogan. Kenny was shot through the body and dangerously wounded. Kennedy and Hogan were shot through the legs, and Taylor was unharmed.

The four were employed in the general factory. They surprised the guard on duty in their shop, J. J. Tissue, and took from him his revolver and beat him over the head with it. The shop foreman, Leslie Gordon, rushed to the assistance of the guard. He was unarmed and was attacked by the convicts.

The convicts ran from the shop and toward the prison yard, a distance of 300 yards, to an open gate through which cars of coal were being switched into the prison yard.

Guards on the walls called the warden's office for help and began firing on the men as they crossed the yard.

H. H. Rowland and J. H. Sorum, guards on top of the prison wall, saw the open gate, according to prison officials, fired the shots which struck the convicts.

The convicts managed to get through the gate and were making toward the switch engine with the evident intention of using it as a means of escape when they were shot down. Hogan succeeded in getting onto the engine, though none of the others did, and re-inforcements of guards arrived in time to capture the men before the engine crew was overpowered, and before Hogan could help his wounded companions onto the engine.

Kennedy Escaped in 1918.
Kennedy escaped from the prison Dec. 21, 1918, by climbing over the wall, but was recaptured six months later.

Kenny, according to prison officials, was in the escape plot two years ago when Eli Jenkins, a guard, was killed.

Hogan escaped from the prison six months ago through a sewer, but was soon afterward captured.

All four of the convicts were sent to the Missouri Penitentiary at Jefferson City in serving his second term for burglary. Kennedy is serving a three-year term for burglary, with five years added for a previous escape. He began his sentence in March, 1917. Taylor was given a life term for murder in Kansas City in May, 1920. Hogan is serving a 10-year sentence for robbery. He began his term in July, 1919.

Daugherty Instructs Burns to Make Investigation of Ku Klux Klan Activities

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Attorney-General Daugherty has instructed Chief Burns of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice to inquire into the activities of the Ku Klux Klan and report his findings to him.

This action was taken because of the exposure of the secrets of the Invisible Empire by the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.

From his bedroom Daugherty dictated this statement for the Post-Dispatch:

"Desiring to make a personal investigation of the developments resulting from the investigation of the Post-Dispatch and the World in connection with the operations, declarations, acts and intentions of the so-called Ku Klux Klan and in connection with other information which the department has, I expect to read with care the publications upon this subject, which during the week, however, has prevented my keeping up with these publications, and on that account I am not now prepared to give any advance intimation as to what action the department may take in the matter.

"I have requested Mr. Burns to give the matter personal attention very promptly. As soon as the information obtainable has been considered, if the department is of the opinion that the Government should lay its hand upon the organization referred to or take action against those organizing and participating in the movement, the position of the department will be promptly and publicly known.

"A vigilance organization of this character, or any similar character, is not necessary under our form of government, which requires all citizens with equal preference or special privilege, to see to it that the laws are enforced and obeyed, and that legitimate activities of citizens of all classes are not interfered with by any other class, no matter how high they may set themselves up in virtue or how well qualified they may consider themselves to regulate governmental affairs. The policy of this Government is not friendly to any man or organization behind the mask, no matter who he is or where he comes from."

CEREMONY OF BAPTISM IS PARODIED IN THE KU KLUX KLAN INITIATION Ceremony Described in Ritual for "Naturalization" of Candidates Into "Invisible Empire" Imposes Heavy Obligations.

William Joseph Simmons, Emperor and Imperial Wizard of Ku Klux Klan, Inc., copyrighted and claimed to be the author of the Kloran, or ritual book of the Klan. He therefore may be taken to be personally responsible for everything contained in the volume.

In preceding articles of this series the Post-Dispatch and New York World have exposed its claim to being a sacred secret by showing how Simmons copyrighted it and placed the required two copies in the Library of Congress, where it is catalogued and open to general perusal like any other volume. It also exposed an instance where the former professor and present president of Lanier University inserted "Latin" in his ceremonies presumably to impress his less scholarly disciples, and finally, laid bare an apparent case of plagiarism in the unacknowledged appropriation for Ku Klux use of a poem by an American author, Josiah Gilbert Holland, who is long dead and cannot defend his proprietorship of a noble and inspiring piece of verse.

In addition he has not hesitated to parody that ceremony of baptism, which to every professing Christian is a sacred and holy rite and a sacrament of divine ordination.

When a candidate for passage through the "portal of the Invisible Empire" has "satisfactorily" declared that he is native born, white, Gentile and Protestant, and therefore able to join the Klan, he is ready for "naturalization," and is the Kladd, or "Conductor" of the Klan, after taking the first two sections of the quadruple oath of the order, is led into the presence of the white-hooded and white-robed Klansmen.

"What if one of your party should prove a traitor?" asks the outer guard as the Kladd enters with his candidates.

"He would be immediately banished in disgrace from the Invisible Empire without fear or favor; consequence would be repeated until he and his family were banished from the Invisible Empire."

"Does he know all this?" asks the Kladd.

"All this he now knows," answers the Kladd. "He has heard, and he must heed."

After this the counterpane is given, and the candidates are led into the place of assemblage, where the masked Klansmen are massed, with the "sacred altar" prepared with flammable, dagger and bottle of water, and the "Flery Cross" furnishing the only light.

Candidates Are Harangued.
Then, in the "long" form of the ceremony, follows a protracted perambulation of the group of candidates around the altar and between double ranks of masked and silent Klansmen, with several steps at designated points to be harangued by various "Terrors" or station officers in complete Simmonsese, including the recitation of the plagiarized version of Holland's poem.

Following this, the candidates are warned again, this time by the presiding officer of the assemblage, who may be the Exalted Cyclops, or Klan President, a KlEagle, or some more exalted official.

"This," they are told, while the

VISITORS PREDICT FINEST ZOO IN U. S. FOR ST. LOUIS

Chicago Officials Here on Inspection Trip, Particularly Impressed With Natural Effect of Bear Pit.

ENGINEER TO STUDY THIS CONSTRUCTION

He Asserts Arrangement Is Finest Seen at Any Zoo Yet Visited by Party on Its Tour.

Members of the Board of Commissioners of Cook County, the Forest Preserves Commission and a citizens' committee from Chicago, who came to St. Louis today for a two-day inspection of the St. Louis Zoo in Forest Park, including the bear pits, predicted that St. Louis probably would have the finest zoo in the United States before long.

They were particularly impressed with the fine construction and natural effects achieved in the finished bear pit, and will leave their engineer and chief forester here after the party departs tomorrow night, to complete sketches begun this morning and study this construction. It was said of the bear pits by Emmett Flavin, the engineer:

"These are the finest things we have seen at any zoo we have visited. Chicago will not be satisfied with anything but this manner of housing its animals."

Not Equaled in Other Zoos.
Others joined in the praise bestowed by Flavin. Daniel Ryan, president of the commission, said: "We saw nothing to equal it in any other zoo. The natural topography of the St. Louis Zoo, together with the fine being provided by citizens for its development, should enable us soon to distance any other city."

The Bronx Zoo in New York is larger, but the St. Louis Zoo is going to be finer."

Mrs. Edith McCormick of Chicago, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, has agreed to give a 200-acre tract of lake front land to Chicago on condition that it establish a modern zoo there. The commission and committee members have visited the zoos of New York, Washington, Boston and Cincinnati for ideas, and after they visit a member of one of the committees came to St. Louis a few months ago and reported that the plan of the Forest Park Zoo was better than any other, and urged that it be made the object of a special inspection.

There are 21 members in the party. Upon their arrival they were escorted to the zoo by Mayor Kiel, Park Commissioner Page, and George E. Dieckman of the Zoological Board of Control, who with others conducted the visitors through the zoo.

Morning Devoted to Bear Pits.
Almost the entire morning was devoted to inspection of the bear pits, so impressed were the visitors with this method of housing animals, and as two of the three bear pits are yet unfinished, the engineer will have an opportunity, in remaining here a few days, to obtain a more comprehensive idea of the work.

From the bear pits the party was taken for a call on Sam, the orang-outang, who behaved most graciously for the first time. He took a drink of beer, shook hands all around and rode a bicycle around the animal house.

After luncheon the visitors returned again to the Forest Park Zoo, to study of other features of the Zoo. The St. Louis Zoo, as is known, is maintained by an annual tax levy, now amounting to about $200,000 a year.

MAN SLAIN IN BANK HOLDUP

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 13.—Jack Schools, 22, of Bossier City, La., was shot to death and Willie Sumlin, 25, of Shreveport, was captured shortly after noon today when an attempt was made to rob the Bank of Grand Canal, La., about 20 miles south of here.

Sheriff Williams of De Soto Parish, with a posse of officers, including Police Chief Bazer of Shreveport, who had been tipped off to the plans of the bandits, were concealed in the bank when Schools and Sumlin, both armed, confronted Cashier W. H. Smith and ordered him to hand over the money. As one of the bandits started to walk toward a door near the cashier, the officers began firing.

60,000 Strike in France.
LILLE, France, Sept. 13.—Textile workers of Lille, Roubaix and Tulle struck yesterday as a protest against a cut in wages proposed by manufacturers. Metal workers, municipal workers, street cleaners and restaurant workers joined in the strike. The gas, electric and tramway employees continued at work. The strikers number about 60,000.

STRIKING PRINTERS HERE ARE ENJOINED FROM PICKETING

Temporary Order in Case Issued by Federal Judge at Denver.

SUIT BROUGHT BY OPEN SHOP FIRMS

Ruling Upholds Contention That Unions Interfere With Interstate Commerce — Damages Also Sought.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 13.—Union printers in St. Louis, who went on strike May 1 for the 44-hour week, have been enjoined from picketing and from harassing, threatening, assaulting or intimidating those seeking work in open-shop plants in St. Louis, in a temporary restraining order issued here by John E. Carland, acting District Judge for the Eastern District of Missouri, by order of the Chief Justice of the United States.

The striking printers are also restrained from congregating in front of open-shop plants and making false statements concerning the strike, and must show cause on Sept. 19, at 10 a. m., in the District Court at St. Louis, why the temporary restraining order should not be made permanent.

The temporary restraining order was issued here on petition of the "Open Shop Printers of St. Louis," the employers' organization, which charged the strikers with interfering with interstate commerce by attempting to force the employers to conduct their business only upon the closed shop plan. Since the employers were engaged in interstate commerce in buying, selling and shipping, and since their business had been seriously damaged by the union's efforts to coerce new employees and prospective employees into refusing to work, it is charged that interstate commerce was interfered with, and damages are sought under the Sherman antitrust act and the Clayton act.

Judge Carland states that it appears, through the petition and affidavits filed, that the union printers conspired and confederated to make the property of the employers worthless by their interference, which is alleged to have caused employers heavy losses.

Judge Wade, on July 18, Refused to Grant Injunction.
Judge Wade, sitting in the United States District Court here July 18, refused to grant a blanket injunction against interference with interstate commerce by strikers alleged to have been guilty of intimidating employees at work on orders for printing from other cities, and attorneys for the employers set about to have this question presented to another Judge.

CITY TO DRAW ON BANKS FOR $650,000 LOAN BY THURSDAY

Comptroller Nolte today notified banks with which the city has funds on deposit, that the city would draw them not later than Thursday for a loan of $650,000. The banks, acting through the Clearing House Association, decided in July to make such loans up to $100,000 for the accommodation of the city Government, and to charge 6 per cent interest. This is the first loan required by the city. Other loans will be necessary, it is expected, before large sums begin to be received in taxes in December.

The banks pay the city 2 1/2 per cent interest for its funds on deposit with them.

Nolte said today that the city had on deposit $277,683 in all funds, very little of this being actual municipal revenue. Most of it is sinking fund money, which is to be used for current revenue, and repaid when taxes are received.

For the city payroll Thursday, $410,000 will be required, and for other bills payable then or within a few days afterward, $140,000 more. There will be another payroll and interest roll to meet Oct. 1.

The loan will be made on notes for $10,000 each, to be signed by the Mayor and Comptroller in behalf of the city.

BLIZZARD IN SOUTH AFRICA

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The worst blizzard in many years has been raging for some days over the greater part of the Orange Free State, Natal and portions of Cape Colony and the Transvaal, says a dispatch from Capetown yesterday.

Pietermaritzburg, capital of Natal, was cut off from rail, telegraph and telephone communication with the north for some days. In some parts of the Transvaal the snowfall lasted 15 hours—an unprecedented occurrence.

MURDER THEORY IN DEATH OF HEAD OF NARCOTIC SQUAD

Federal Officer at New York Was at First Thought to Have Ended Life.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Belief that Frank J. Fitzpatrick, head of the Federal narcotic squad here, was murdered after a spectacular drug and liquor raid on the steamship King Alexander last Friday was expressed today by United States Attorney E. J. Collins of Brooklyn.

Until then investigators generally had accepted the theory that Fitzpatrick fired two bullets into his body, suicide was the official finding of an autopsy.

Col. O. C. Forrer of the international revenue service at Washington, who is conducting an investigation into the death, said he leaned to the suicide theory at first, but was now wavering and would sift the murder theory to the bottom.

Collins pointed out that while two shots were heard, only one bullet was found in the body. He said it was possible for a bullet to have been fired at the officer from a window in the washroom where he died.

SAYS WITNESS IN ARBUCKLE CASE CHANGED TESTIMONY

District Attorney Charges Miss Zey Provost Denied to Grand Jury Miss Rappe Had Said Film Comedian Was Responsible for Her Injury.

ANOTHER WOMAN WHO WAS AT PARTY GONE

Alice Blake Is Missing and San Francisco Official Alleges Undue Influence Has Been Used on Witnesses — Arbuckle Before Grand Jury.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 13.—A statement expressing the conviction that perjury had been committed by one of the chief witnesses for the prosecution at the grand jury investigation last night of the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, film actress, for whose alleged murder Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle is under arrest, was issued here early today by District Attorney Brady.

The statement came shortly after the grand jury had concluded a five-hour consideration of the case and adjourned without voting an indictment.

Brady in the statement also charged that he believed "undue influence and pressure of a sinister character had been brought to bear upon certain witnesses. Whether or not an arrest would be made in connection with his charge of perjury, he said, would depend on further developments.

Another Witness Missing.
Brady charged that Miss Zey Provost, also known as Zey Pyron, had changed her testimony before the grand jury from that she had given previously to the police officials of the District Attorney's office, that Miss Rappe had told her Arbuckle had caused her injuries. Earlier last night it was reported Miss Pyron refused to sign a statement that Miss Rappe had told her this and later it was said, she denied that she had ever made the assertion concerning Miss Rappe, Brady said.

District Attorney Brady also charged in his statement that Miss Alice Blake, another witness for the prosecution, was missing.

"We have sent Miss Pyron home under surveillance," he said. "The grand jury changed her story completely before the grand jury. Whether or not we shall arrest her and charge her with perjury will depend on further developments. I am convinced, however, that perjury has been committed by her."

"I am convinced that undue influence and pressure of a sinister character has been brought to bear on her and other witnesses, one of whom, Alice Blake, has mysteriously disappeared from her home in Berkeley. We have been unable to find her."

"In spite of these efforts to thwart the ends of justice, the investigation will proceed and no effort will be spared to bring the guilty ones to their just deserts."

Miss Provost was questioned by the District Attorney this afternoon regarding her alleged conflicting stories.

The inquest which was begun yesterday was resumed this afternoon. Arbuckle was before the jury.

Mrs. Bambina, Maude Delmont, who brought the murder charge against Arbuckle, was the first witness at the inquest today. Last night she was before the grand jury.

Arbuckle, the last witness summoned by the grand jury was aroused from a sound sleep about 1 o'clock this morning. Arbuckle, it is said, was in the grand jury room only three minutes. He is reported to have declined to make any statement further than to explain that his lawyers had advised him to keep silent.

Inquiry to Be Resumed.
Mrs. Delmont had previously testified concerning the party in Arbuckle's room at a hotel here on Labor day at which Miss Rappe was present. Other witnesses were heard.

After Arbuckle left the grand jury room the jurors began to deliberate upon the testimony given. The jurors argued, it is said, for half an hour, having excluded District Attorney Brady and his assistants. The conclusion then was reached that it was announced to defer action until further evidence could be presented. No

JEWS GRATEFUL FOR KU KLUX KLAN BAN, EDITOR SAYS

A. Rosenthal in Modern View Editorial Likens It to Being Barred From Leprosy or Smallpox.

PREDICTS BRIEF LIFE FOR ORGANIZATION He Asserts That Secret Order Stands Convicted by Its Own "Despicable Narrow-mindedness."

This week's issue of the Modern View, a Jewish publication with offices at 210 Olive street, will contain the following editorial on "The Jewish People and the Ku Klux Klan," written by its editor, A. Rosenthal: "The feeling of the Jewish people to the Ku Klux Klan for denying them the privilege of membership is one of profound gratitude, equivalent to being barred from leprosy or smallpox."

"Whatever alleged merits the mysterious Klan may claim, its declared policy of making a distinction based on creed and faith sufficiently condemns it as evil and medieval. Any such a discreditable basis it confers itself as unworthy of American approval."

Brief Life Predicted. "We are of the opinion that the strength and numbers of the Ku Klux Klan are much exaggerated and that its life is destined to be brief."

"After the Civil War, the Government of the United States ended the existence of the pernicious Ku Klux Klan of that distracted period, when its activities became obnoxious. It will be similarly stopped if the attempt should in any way resemble its progenitor."

"We do not think the government interference will be necessary in the present recrudescence of the effort to create a secret, self-constituted body, that according to the press reports proposes to pass on the conduct of others without the official sanction or authority of the American Government, courts or people."

"The Ku Klux Klan professes to promote and preserve our civilization in this country."

Basics of American Ideals. "Our civilization, according to our understanding of American ideals, is bodied and pedimented, not on white supremacy or on the domination of Christian sects, but on the everlasting, undisputed reign and voluntary recognition of justice and fraternity as the primal excellences and superlative considerations."

"Universal justice and equality are the indispensable ingredients and elements, the blood and being of our social progress."

"Any man or set of men that violates these underlying principles of advancement, retards the progress of America and humanity. Fortunately such institutions as the Ku Klux Klan, established on intolerance and religious prejudice, cannot find responsive echo in the hearts of true Americans or upright Christian people. It can win, in our opinion, neither popular support nor Government endorsement, no matter what its general claims of creditable purpose are."

"Out of Spirit With Time." "It stands convicted, by its own despicable narrow-mindedness, of being out of tune with the spirit and the tendency of our developed time. It is clearly out of touch with the forward and upward-looking democratic fellowship that America symbolizes, in which distinctions of creed or complexion are subordinate in comparison to conduct and character, displayed in private or public service to the welfare of humanity."

"By humanity is meant mankind, undivided by social, religious and political lines of man's own making; the entire human race, in which the elemental virtues and defects battle continuously, the same now as in the days (now happily far distant) when the first Ku Kluxer roamed barbarously in the solitude of savagery."

ice of our country, our Klan, our homes, each other and humanity."

Then, following the state directions, he advances to the candidates and pours a few drops of water on each one's back, saying:

"In Body," pours a few drops on his head, saying, "I baptize you in a few drops on his own hand and raises it upward, saying, "In Spirit," and finally moves his hand "in a horizontal circular motion" round the candidate's head, saying, "I baptize you in the blood of the Lord."

"Life," which action terminates the baptismal parody, except for a prayer during which all "Terrors" and mere Kluxers kneel while the blessing of God is once more invoked on Ku Klux Klan.

An Imperial Lecture. Appointed to the corps of the ritual is an imperial lecture which affords an excellent example of the spiritual fodder fed to the Ku Klux members. In part, it runs as follows:

"The noble achievements of the Ku Klux Klan shine with undiminished effulgence through the gathering mist of accumulating years and eloquent tribute to the chivalry and patriotism of the past, and the holy heroism of our fathers in preserving to us the sacred heritage of a su-

Leader of Women's Division of Ku Klux Klan Explains How Funds Are Distributed

Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, Contends Organization Stands for Law Enforcement and Has Right to Restrict Membership Without Being Regarded as Opposing Creeds Outside List.

From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Following is a statement dictated in the World office early yesterday morning by Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, grand chief of staff of the Women's Division of the Ku Klux Klan. Mrs. Tyler came to the World office with a friend and expressed her desire of supplementing an interview printed in another paper Saturday:

"I would like to make this statement more complete, but I am suffering from a nervous breakdown and am physically unfit to go further into details at this time."

"First, I should like to take exception to the statement made in the World that the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan fosters race prejudice. You have either been misinformed on this point or you are badly mistaken."

"The order does not foster race prejudice, but believes there is room in this country for every race. We do believe, however, that this is a white man's country, so ordained by the will of God, and that the reins of government should and must rest in the hands of its white citizens and that they should guide and shape its destiny."

"We stand unreservedly for white supremacy. By this we do not refer to the negro alone, but we mean every colored race in the world, so far as the United States is concerned."

Denies Grafting Existence. "Second, I take exception to the suggestion that the order is a 'grafting institution,' and also to the reference made to the home which was purchased for Col. W. J. Simmons by the Klansmen of the nation. I can and do truthfully state that Col. Simmons is a poor man and at the time the idea of the home was conceived he was receiving only $100 per week salary and previous to that for five years—he received practically nothing from the organization."

"The Klansmen realized that under these conditions it would require many years for him to have a home, and thus they contributed, voluntarily, a small amount each for the purchase of the home referred to. These contributions did not come from the funds of any Klan, but were personal in every instance."

"For your information, I am pleased to outline how the $10 donation is spent."

"The organization for propagation purposes is, for efficiency, divided into classes. The Kluxes, or Klans, is a man who gives his time to instructing, and otherwise assisting individual Klans. He receives a pay of $4 for each man taken in. This Klux is in charge of a county, or group of counties and he must pay all his expenses out of the amount he receives."

"Next, there is a King Klux, who is in charge of a State and who also gives his full time to the work. He is allowed a pro rata of $1 for each man taken into the order, and of this sum he must pay his own expenses, including travel over the State, the upkeep of a State office, etc. Groups of States are under control of a Grand Dragon, the head of a Domain, who receives a pro rata of 50 cents for each man taken into the order."

pelior race, political supremacy, racial integrity, social peace and security, and to humanity the boon of universal civilization. It is the malicious slanders of the age, and is an inexhaustible source of inspiration to those of this generation who touch the chords of universal sacrifice for themselves, our country and our race."

Then follows this burst of oratory: "When," announces "Emperor" Simmons, when the shuddering peals of the thunder of the impending storm of the American reconstruction were heard above the fading echoes of the battles of the Civil War, the chosen victims stood aghast and pale wondering at the meaning and purpose of the gathering gloom."

When they learned the meaning, he goes on, they gave a cry which was "a horrible melody full of intense anguish—melancholy groans of many men struck dumb, mingling with the sickening, penetrating sobs of distressed women and the plaintive cry of hungry, cladless children, on this melancholy orchestra grief touched the chords of universal sacrifice and played the dirge of death over the slaughtered corps of civilization."

Sacred Duty Calls the Klan. Then, says the modern Emperor, then came the Ku Klux Klan, and with a grim smile of sacred duty resting upon their manly countenances, leaped into the saddle, riding "from over the mysterious borderland from the Empire of the Soul" and "baptized with a suffusion of tears."

They came, he repeats, and added: "They came, they saw, they conquered." Then "the voice of music was again heard in the land, their purpose and mission was ended, they laid aside their spotless robes, and the greatest order of chivalry in history disintegrated—for the Ku Klux rode no more."

But, he goes on, their "noble ride is immortalized and memorialized in the Ku Klux Klan."

"The spirit of the Ku Klux Klan order, out of which he must pay all expenses in connection with his office, travel, etc."

"This leaves a balance of $4.50, which goes into the general propagation fund to meet all other expenses in the nation-wide work, such as rent, clerk hire, stenographic expense, the cost of literature, as well as the cost of Klan supplies, which are furnished free to each Klan when it is chartered."

"When a Klan is chartered its members meet and decide by vote on the amount of due each member shall be assessed yearly."

As to Religious Beliefs. "These funds are kept in a Christian bank, and the Klan is a Christian organization, which are in the amount of $50,000 each, for any loss shown as due to waste."

A public accountant testified that the receivers had expended $304,091 in purchases, of which $132,055 had been spent with Farish & Co.

The proceeding against the receivers charges them with waste of the concern's assets. Attorney Moses N. Sale said he would seek to have the receivers held liable on their bonds, which are in the amount of $50,000 each, for any loss shown as due to waste.

Freight Cut Comes Too Late. Reduction Will Not Help Building This Fall.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Reductions in freight rates on sand, gravel and crushed stone, authorized recently by the Interstate Commerce Commission for railroads in the eastern tier territory, will not help to stimulate building and construction for this year, said a statement issued yesterday by the National Association of Sand and Gravel Producers.

The commission in announcing the reduction said the construction of roads, buildings and other improvements would be affected, but the sand and gravel producers' statement said that "contracts for road work have been let and sufficient time is not allowed before cold weather sets in to start new building projects."

"I most strenuously object to the charge of lawlessness. It is forbidden by the constitution and rules of the order, and any Klansman violating these rules, is immediately banished from the organization."

"The acts of lawlessness, referred to by the World were, in no case, a case of a Klansman violating the rules of the order, and we cordially and welcome the most rigid investigation. There are other statements made that are not fair, but I shall not go into them because they are rather expressions of unfriendly opinion and prejudice than a statement of facts. We grant the right of any individual to honestly dislike us, and sometimes we are proud of the enemies we have made."

RECEIVERS ACCUSED OF REJECTING BUSINESS

Witnesses in Houchin Case Testify Orders Were Turned Down—Waste Alleged.

Testimony was heard today in the Federal District Court in the suit of Levi Lurie, a Chicago creditor, for the removal of Robert G. Morris and Henson M. Stephens as receivers of the Star Clothing Co., of which James A. Houchin was head before the receivers were appointed last March.

Bert M. Houchin, brother of James A. Houchin, a salesman for the concern, testified that the receivers had rejected orders for goods for which he and other salesmen had obtained orders. He said an order obtained by Victor Firstine for over $10 a dozen pairs was rejected, though the same goods had sold the day before at $9.62 a dozen.

Houchin told of the rejection of orders obtained by James A. Houchin and himself, and said a suit was threatened by the customer in one instance. He said Morris had refused to make a sale for cash to Levi Lurie, plaintiff in the present proceeding, with Farish & Co.

C. E. Hunter, former purchasing agent of the concern, testified that the company's factories were being run at a capacity of 2000 dozen pairs of overalls a week, whereas they were capable of producing that much work in a day. He said the receivers, in making purchases, had favored Farish & Co. of New York and had paid them a price for denim higher than others were charging.

A public accountant testified that the receivers had expended $304,091 in purchases, of which $132,055 had been spent with Farish & Co.

The proceeding against the receivers charges them with waste of the concern's assets. Attorney Moses N. Sale said he would seek to have the receivers held liable on their bonds, which are in the amount of $50,000 each, for any loss shown as due to waste.

Man Killed Adjusting Belt. William L. Leaver, 41 years old, of 3800 Walnut avenue, East St. Louis, was fatally injured at 11 o'clock last night when he became entangled in a belt he was attempting to adjust on a pulley. He was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, where he died a half hour later of a broken neck. Leaver is survived by a wife and six children.

Find $1000 Ring in Umbrella. Mrs. Dora Beck, a resident guest at the Buckingham Annex Hotel, yesterday asked the police to cease their search for a $1000 diamond ring she reported missing about two weeks ago when she thought it had been stolen from a dresser in her room. She said she found it in the folds of an umbrella in a closet yesterday.

Irish Reply to Lloyd George May Be Given Out Tonight

Arrangements for Meeting of the Dail Eireann Tomorrow Have Been Completed.

DUBLIN, Sept. 13.—The reply of the Dail Eireann to the proposal of Premier Lloyd George for a conference at Inverness, Sept. 20, on the question of an Irish settlement may be given out tonight, it was said here this afternoon, but it was indicated, as more probable, that the publication would be deferred until midday tomorrow.

Arrangements for tomorrow's meeting of the Dail Eireann, called last week after Lloyd George's letter was received, have been completed.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—Prime Minister Lloyd George, who is in Gairloch, Scotland, today received Harry Bland, secretary to Eamonn de Valera, and Joseph McGrath, another Sinn Fein leader, and discussed with them some points with reference to the conference suggested in the British Government's last communication to the Sinn Fein, says an official statement issued here today.

McGrath and Bland, now are returning to Dublin with Lloyd George's view for further consideration by the Dail Eireann, the statement adds.

Verdict of Accident in Death of Youth in Airplane Crash

A Coroner's verdict of accident was returned today at the inquest over William E. Hensel, 17 years old, who was killed when an airplane fell at Forest Park last Saturday while riding with Arthur C. Brown and had paid them a price for denim higher than others were charging.

Brown testified that he was starting to a fair at Gokonda, Ill., and was taking Hensel with him as a helper. They had risen to a height of about 200 feet, he said, when he noticed that the load seemed too heavy for the plane. He decided to alight and let Hensel out, and he was returning to the flying field when the airplane struck an air pocket about 75 feet from the ground and fell. Brown was not injured.

Freight Cut Comes Too Late. Reduction Will Not Help Building This Fall.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Reductions in freight rates on sand, gravel and crushed stone, authorized recently by the Interstate Commerce Commission for railroads in the eastern tier territory, will not help to stimulate building and construction for this year, said a statement issued yesterday by the National Association of Sand and Gravel Producers.

The commission in announcing the reduction said the construction of roads, buildings and other improvements would be affected, but the sand and gravel producers' statement said that "contracts for road work have been let and sufficient time is not allowed before cold weather sets in to start new building projects."

"I most strenuously object to the charge of lawlessness. It is forbidden by the constitution and rules of the order, and any Klansman violating these rules, is immediately banished from the organization."

"The acts of lawlessness, referred to by the World were, in no case, a case of a Klansman violating the rules of the order, and we cordially and welcome the most rigid investigation. Saved Her Wages for Years to Bring Sister From Poland; Must Go Back in Her Place

Girl Smuggled Relative in From Ellis Island by Giving Up Her Own Return Pass; Now Immigration Officials Have to Deport Somebody.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Stefania Watrobeka came to America from Poland eight years ago, worked hard at scrubbing and dishwashing, saved her scant wages and thought of that little sister, Karolina. Some day when she had saved enough she meant to bring Karolina to America.

The war cut off early hope of that. Poland's strife and famines swept away all Stefania's relatives in the homeland except Karolina. Karolina must be snatched from that fate, so Stefania hoarded her pennies as she worked in a lunchroom in Westport, Conn.

At last the passage money was sent on her way to New York. She arrived, a third-class passenger aboard the Finland. Stefania was waiting at the gates of Ellis Island. Soon she clasped her little sister in her arms, petted her and told her that in a day or so she would be free to go to Stefania's home and the employment the big sister had obtained for her.

When Stefania went again to Ellis Island Karolina was in a new place there.

MINISTERS USED IN POLITICAL CONTEST, GOLDSTEIN CHARGES

Opposition to Him as Post-

Pastor Has Candidate for J. A. Circuit Clerk Says.

COMPLIMENTS THE REV. J. H. SMITH

byterian Congregation Has Accomplished Something
He Was Never Able to Do.

Circuit Clerk Nat Goldstein, whose pending appointment as Postmaster was opposed in resolutions adopted by five groups of ministers representing different denominations at a meeting yesterday, today said he looked upon the opposition as he would "look upon any opposition in a political fight."

It is possible some of the misguided reverend gentlemen believed they were acting from high and pure motives, Goldstein said. "They probably do not realize that they have been used in a political contest."

Resolutions by Five Groups.
The resolutions were adopted by ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Southern Methodist Church, the Baptist Church, the Congregational Church and the Presbyterian Church. The resolutions of the Southern Methodist ministers, which were in more detail than the others, were adopted by a vote of 158 to 10. The resolutions of the other four groups were adopted by a vote of 158 to 10.

At the meeting, Goldstein said he was "amused" by the resolutions and that he was "glad" to see the ministers "so busy" with their political work.

PROSECUTOR CHARGES ARBUCKLE, WITNESS CHANGED TESTIMONY

date was set for the resumption of the inquiry.

After the adjournment, Clifford Curtis, formerly said:

"We have decided to continue the hearing to give District Attorney Brady the opportunity to secure certain information which we desire. It was thought best not to vote on an indictment tonight."

Other witnesses who appeared before the grand jury were Al Sembacher, business manager for Miss Rappe and a guest at the party in Arbuckle's rooms in a hotel when Miss Rappe was taken ill. Physicians who attended her also were witnesses before the grand jury.

Before the inquest began, Ar-buckle's attorneys, taking cognizance of the trend of public opinion as evidenced by the constabulary of the showings of pictures in which the comedian is the star, issued a statement asking the public to withhold judgment until the court has rendered its verdict.

Arbuckle, when arraigned in Police Court on a murder charge yesterday morning, spent the afternoon at the coroner's inquest.

Last night he went back to his cell to await the outcome of a grand jury investigation.

At the opening session of the inquest the story of Miss Rappe's removal from Arbuckle's suite, her treatment in another hotel room and later at a hospital, her death and the post-mortem examination, was told by physicians and others.

The most vivid account of Miss Rappe's last hours was given before the inquest by Mrs. Sidi Wirt Speckels, widow of John D. Speck-els Jr., who was called to the hospital last Friday morning, a few hours before Miss Rappe died.

"To think that I have led such a quiet life and that I should have gotten into such a party," were among Miss Rappe's last words, Mrs.
Speckels said in a formal statement to the District Attorney.

The party in Arbuckle's rooms appeared as the event from which Miss Rappe's death followed, physicians at the inquest testified, but were unable to say what was the exact cause, whether from injuries or from illness due to excessive use of liquor.

Harry J. Boyle, assistant manager of the St. Francis Hotel, testified at the inquest that when called to Arbuckle's suite he found Mrs.
Delmont and Sembacher, who were said to have accompanied Miss Rappe to San Francisco from Los Angeles, sitting on the edge of a bed where Miss Rappe lay motionless and unconscious.
Arbuckle himself picked up Miss Rap-pe and carried her down the hotel corridor to another room, where she lay until being taken to the hospital three days later, according to Boyle's testimony. At the door of this room, however, the film comedian's strength gave out, Boyle said, and Boyle had to complete the journey.

Had Only Three Drinks.
Boyle testified that Arbuckle and another member of the party told him Miss Rappe had only three drinks.

Too much liquor was the diagnosis given by Dr. Olav Kaarboe, the first physician called in, according to Kaarboe's own statement. At the time there was no evidence of serious injury, he said. Dr. M. E. Rum-well testified he was called in to the case to succeed the second physician, Dr. Arthur Heardslee. He said Miss Rappe's condition did not seem serious until Thursday of last week, when a consultation was held.

Dr. Rumwell said there was nothing to indicate she had suffered from any violence until the post-mortem examination, when he said evidence of internal injury was found.

Dr. William Onbuls called into the case to perform the post-mortem operation, described the internal injuries, but said he could not say definitely what caused them.

Unable to hide his concern Arbuckle tried to avoid the court ordeal, begging that he be allowed to remain in his cell and away from the thrill that he was told were eager for a sight of him.

MOVIE COLONY IS DIVIDED ON THE ARBUCKLE CASE

Other Los Angeles Residents Not Inclined to Be Surprised at Outcome of Party.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 13.—

The tragic death of Virginia Rappe and the arrest of Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle, charged with murder, has divided the people of Los Angeles—those in other walks of life than the movie industry—not inclined to be shocked or surprised. Rather the attitude is, "I told you so."

So many stories and rumors, substantiated or not, of wild orgies in the film colony have been retailed daily that the Arbuckle case is generally classed as "only one more movie outrage."

The movie industry and the homes and studios of those connected with it are largely confined to the Hollywood section of the city. When those who live in it put on "parties" their objective points are usually a number of coffee and hotels which have made it a practice to cater to the supposedly long purses of the actors, actresses and their hangers-on.

The more violent orgies have been generally reserved for private houses. Liquor is free as air in most cases.

Many times neighbors have telephoned the police and the parties have been temporarily broken up, but that apparently has been no deterrent. The milder adherents at the cafes which make bids for the film trade have been more restricted, but the spectacle of drunken persons, rough dancing and table villains is so common that respectable persons do not go to the "jazz palaces."

For several years the motion picture industry has been a bone of contention. The business community has supported it—for it brought the city millions of dollars annually.
The "home folks" element and the "natives" have denounced it, claiming Hollywood, where the movie people have centered, was a hotbed of immorality.

The colony has been "investigated" by social workers. Charges that starved, hungry and were lured to ruin by the glamour of movie life, and allegations that days before the camera were only forerunners of nights of carousal have been made in the newspapers and from the pulpit.

The movie colony is divided into factions, the one standing up for "Fatty," the other denouncing him.
Most of the motion-picture celebrities refuse to discuss the case for publication.

He was silent and smoked cigarettes throughout the day, according to

Arbuckle Films Not to Be Shown in Southern California.

Members of the Motion Picture Theater Owners' Association of Southern California adopted a resolution favoring the withdrawal, until the charges against him were disproved, of all films in which "the name of Roscoe J. Arbuckle was featured, because of the undesirable publicity he has obtained in connection" with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, it was announced today by Glenn Harper, secretary of the organization.

Sentenced for Nonsupport.

Edmund A. Beims, 24 years old, son of Edmund W. Beims, president of the Claes & Lehnbeuter Manufacturing Co., was sentenced to one year in the workhouse by Judge Miller, in the Court of Criminal Correction yesterday, for failing to support his infant daughter, Mildred Mary.

Beims was divorced from his wife, Mildred, of 4341 Washington boulevard, last January, and she testified that he had given only $10 to the child since then. Beims was released on $2000 bond pending an appeal.

Arkansas Congressman Dies.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Representative Samuel M. Taylor of Arkansas died at his home here early today, after an illness of several weeks with pleurisy and pneumonia, aged 69 years. He was ranking Democratic member of the Rivers and Harbors Committee.

MAJ. SAUERWEIN'S BODY WILL BE AT ARMORY SUNDAY

All Legion Posts and Military Units to Attend Funeral of Officer Who Fell in Argonne.

PUBLIC CEREMONIES
AT OTHER BURIALS

Arrangements Announced for Some of the Consignment of Soldier-Dead That Arrived Yesterday.

Public funerals have been announced for several of the 19 St.
Louis and St. Louis County soldier dead, whose bodies arrived from France yesterday afternoon.

A military funeral will be held next Sunday for Maj. August Sauer-wein of the 138th Infantry, who was killed soon after the opening of the Argonne battle. In the last week of September, 1918, he was the highest ranking officer from St. Louis killed in the war.

Maj. Sauerwein's casket was taken to an undertaking establishment at 3846 Lindell boulevard, to remain until Sunday, when it will be taken to the Armory for the funeral. The committee in charge announced this afternoon that the casket would not be at the Armory before Sunday.

It was stated in earlier editions of the Post-Dispatch today that the casket would be at the Armory through the week.

Arrangements for the funeral are in charge of Maj. Norman E. Comfort of the 138th. It is planned to have every military unit in the city and St. Louis County posts participate in the funeral. Adjutant-General Raupp will command the funeral cortege. Senator Spence and Mayor Kiel are among the speakers invited. The funeral will be in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Boutwell Funeral Today.

The funeral of Lieut. Lloyd R.
Boutwell of the medical detachment, 314th Engineers, will be held this afternoon at the Kirkwood Presbyterian Church. He lived in Kirkwood before his enlistment, and is survived by his wife, Edna, and his father R. W. Boutwell. Interment is to be at Hamilton, Mo.

Funerals announced to be held tomorrow are the following:

Corporal William J. Flaherty, 830
a. m., from residence, 4241 De Soto avenue, to Holy Name Church, St. Louis, Mo., at 10 a. m.

Sgt. Calvin B. Mitchell, 2 p. m., from undertaking establishment at 2217 South Grand avenue to Bellefontaine Cemetery, with military escort.

Lieut. Philip J. Seger, 8:30 a. m., from residence, 418 Fassen street, to St. Mary's and St. Joseph's Church, thence to St. Peter and Paul's Cemetery.

Harold H. Sickmann, 2 p. m., from undertaking establishment at 2825 North Grand avenue to Bellefontaine Cemetery, with military escort.

The Reward of Merit

Merit wins. It is the only quality which successfully stands all tests and is its own best advertiser.

Twenty-eight successive Anniversary Sales have most convincingly proved to us that it is not promise, but fulfillment, which has made each greater than its predecessor; it is the actual merit of the merchandise offered and of the savings effected that finds each succeeding one of our Anniversary celebrations greeted with an increased degree of heartiness by the buying public.

The twenty-ninth event proved itself with a first, and a second day of wonderful value-giving, and enthusiastic response—and now comes the announcement of a third, which admits no superior!

$7,500,000 IN RAILROAD BONDS SOLD TO FIRM

Three Western Lines to Benefit by Disposal of Securities to Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Sale at par and accrued interest of $7,500,000 par value of railroad equipment trust certificates held by the Government, with the approval of President Harding, was announced yesterday by Director General of Railroads Davis.
The certificates were bought by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., of New York, through the War Finance Corporation which handled the sale for the Railroad Administration.
The equipment trust certificates, the corporation said, bear interest at 6 per cent per annum and mature serially from 1933 to 1935 inclusive. The securities sold were in equal amounts of $1,000,000 of the following railroad companies: Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Norfolk & Western, Central Railroad Co. of New Jersey, and Southern Pacific Co.
Sale of these certificates, it was explained, is the first of a series of sales the administration is planning to market blocks of as many of the $300,000,000 worth of car trust securities held by the Government as can be disposed of at par.
Funds realized from these transactions, it was said, would be turned over to the Railroad Administration for the benefit of the railroads. This method of raising the money for railroad relief, high Treasury officials declared, would lessen the amount the War Finance Corporation would be called upon to supply. If Congress passes the railroad funding bill, by a sum equivalent to that received from sales of car trust certificates, and at the same time would permit the settlement of railroad claims to continue, pending congressional action.
All sales, it was emphasized, would be without any form of Government guarantee or liability, the Government, regarding itself as not a party to the transactions beyond making the actual transfers.
Early settlement of railroad claims, in the opinion of Treasury officials, should be expected to reflect favorably on the unemployment and business situation throughout the country, it being asserted that the roads could do more business and employ more men.
Negotiations for the sale of the railroad securities, it was said, were being carried on by Eugene Meyers Jr., managing director of the War Finance Corporation, under the direction of President Harding, in accordance with the advice of Secretary Mellon and Director General Davis.

35TH DIVISION'S REUNION

Will Be Held in Kansas City at Time of Legion Meeting.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 12.—Definite arrangements for the annual reunion of the Thirty-fifth Division, which will be held in conjunction with the national convention of the American Legion here next month, were formulated at a conference of legion and division officers here this week. Every unit of the division was represented at the conference, which was presided over by John H. Miles, Marshal of Jackson County and vice president of the Thirty-fifth Division association.
Edward E. Pugh Jr. was appointed general chairman of the Reunion Committee. A large delegation will be organized to attend the reunion from Kansas by Charles I. Martin, Adjutant-General of the Thirty-fifth Division organization, according to an announcement made at the meeting. Committees to co-operate in the reunion plans will be appointed throughout Missouri and Kansas.

PALAN ESTATE SUED FOR $35,000

Woman Injured When Owner of Auto Was Killed Seeks Damages.
Suit for $35,000 damages was filed yesterday by Mrs. Augusta Pace, 4459 Delmar boulevard, a divorcee, against the estate of John A. Palan, on account of injuries she received in an automobile accident in which Palan and Mrs. Betty Brennan, 34 years old, 4459 Delmar, were killed, on Lindell boulevard, near Euclid avenue, Aug. 28.
Mrs. Pace alleged that the accident was due to reckless driving by Palan. Her left hip was broken and she has lost her earnings amounting to $40 a week as a waitress and rooming-house proprietor, the petition states. Palan was married and had a wife and two children. In his will he left his property to his family. He was salesman for the A. Palan Shoe Co., 1409 Washington avenue, which is owned by his father.

"Built Up to a Standard, Not Down to a Price"

In building The Dorris there has never been any attempt to meet a price, for the very simple reason that those who are in position to own a Dorris give price only secondary consideration. They want and are willing to pay a fair price for all the luxury, all the beauty, all the mechanical refinement that can possibly be put into a motor car. They would be unwilling to accept less in The Dorris, even at a reduced price.

The Dorris builders are just as unwilling to sacrifice any quality or refinement to reduce the price. Rather have they added to the unusual features without increasing the price. Most important of the recent additions is the Dorris Distillator, for the proper vaporization of present day gasoline.

After driving a Dorris for two or three years the owner begins to realize what "Built Up to a Standard, Not Down to a Price," means to him in riding quality, in dependability, in economy of operation and maintenance, in general satisfaction.

Order your Dorris Coupe now. Delivery can be made without delay.

RULING BARS EVIDENCE IN 150 LIQUOR CASES

Judge Faris Holds That Searches Without Warrants by Police-men Were Illegal.

Federal Judge Faris yesterday handed down a decision in which he held that evidence obtained by city policemen in searches, without search warrants for violations of the Volstead act under the possession clause, was worthless and could not be used in the Federal Court as evidence against those arrested.

Judge Faris' decision will affect more than 150 cases now pending on his docket in which similar pleas to bar prosecution might be made.

The decision was made on a motion filed by Vance J. Higgs, former special assistant to the Attorney-General, in the prosecution of Volstead violations, for Edward Newman, proprietor of a saloon at Ninth and Clinton streets, who was arrested March 5, last, for the restoration of the whisky taken at that time by police.

Higgs Tells of Agreement.

Higgs, in a statement to the court, corroborated by the testimony of Frank T. Diggins, former assistant supervising prohibition agent, said David A. Gates, who was in charge of the enforcement of the Volstead Act in Missouri in December, 1920, and January, February and March of this year, had entered an agreement with the police to take charge of and prosecute in the Federal Court cases made by them in which the only violation of the law charged was possession of liquor. This agreement, the attorney said, was made because the State prohibition law at that time did not make it an offense to possess liquor in other than the home. Higgs contended that as the police were acting for the Federal Government when they made such arrests, they were bound by the requirement of the Federal law.

Judge Faris, in announcing his decision, sustaining the motion and ordering the return of the property to Newman, said:

"It makes no difference whether there was an agreement between the police and Federal authorities in this matter; it is obvious that the police could be acting in this connection only for the Government, as there was no law of the State covering the point."

Same Laws Govern Cases.

"The policemen were, of course, bound by the same laws and regulations which Federal officers must meet in the performance of their duties. They had no more right to enter and search for liquor without search warrants than I or any other citizen would have had."

"Evidence obtained as this was cannot be used in this court, and I will therefore motion to have your order for one or more of these smart new Fall garments."

Our models will assist in showing the garments.

Also we have arranged a very interesting Fashion Exhibition

To be held in the Vandervoort Music Hall at 2:30 p. m. All garments will be shown on our models. You are cordially invited.

VANCE J. HIGGS AND HIS SON ATTACKED AFTER AUTO ACCIDENT

Woman Occupant of Another Machine Strikes Lawyer on Check With Monkey Wrench.

Vance J. Higgs, 5539 Enright avenue, former Special Assistant Attorney-General in charge of Volstead violations in the Eastern District of Missouri, and his son, Norman, 17 years old, were assaulted in their automobile at 2:30 o'clock this morning at Seventeenth and Locust streets by a man and woman in another car which had been in collision with the Higgs machine a few moments before at Fifteenth street.

Higgs was struck across the cheek with a monkey wrench in the hands of the woman. The other machine was driven away and Higgs reported the matter to the police.

Higgs said he and Mrs. Higgs were riding west in Locust, with their son, who was driving, and at Fifteenth street they had a slight collision with a red touring car being driven north in Fifteenth. The Higgs car did not stop, and was overtaken a little way west of Seventeenth. A woman clad in a black silk dress stood on the running board of the red car with a wrench in her hand and reached into the Higgs car, striking Higgs in the face with the tool. At the same time a man reached out of the red car and struck Higgs' son in the eye with his fist. The red car was then driven rapidly away. Higgs said his car was not stopped at the scene of the collision because the battery was weak and he did not wish to stop on a grade.

RETIRED IRON MANUFACTURER TAKEN TO CITY HOSPITAL

Wife of George Helmbocher Also Treated for Bruises—Police Called to Home by Telephone.

George Helmbocher, 62 years old, of 2654 Armand place, a retired iron manufacturer, was taken to the city hospital for observation as to his mental condition early today.

Police were called to the Helmbocher home at 10 o'clock last night by someone who telephoned that a woman was being beaten there. They found Mrs. Helmbocher in the front hall with scalp wounds and a sprained left wrist. She was taken to the Deaconess Hospital, where she would only say that someone had struck her.

Helmbocher was taken to the police station and later to the city hospital, where he was ordered back to the station. At 7 a. m. today he taken back to the hospital at the request of Dr. Edwin Schieler, 2600 South Grand avenue, who said he had been treating Helmbocher for a nervous disease.

Fall Weather

Such a sale as this can only be successful when both manufacturer and retailer make up their minds to eliminate all thought of profit. And this is just what was accomplished. Our New York buying organization received instructions to do two things. One to secure enough Dresses to make this the greatest sale of its kind ever held in St. Louis—the other to secure the best Dresses ever offered at $15. Their efforts were successful even beyond our highest expectations.

The time for such a "buy" was peculiarly opportune. Manufacturers were heavily overstocked because of a backward season, and they welcomed our buyers with open arms. Really these are THE MOST BEAUTIFUL DRESSES WE HAVE SEEN IN MANY YEARS. And the best part of all is that there are hundreds of the $35, $40 and $45 Dresses. Your enthusiasm will be as genuine as ours the moment you note the excellent workmanship, the high quality of the materials and the attractive styles.

"THE CIRCLE" HAILED AS BRILLIANT COMEDY

John Drew and Mrs. Leslie Carter Appear in Maugham's Drama.

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Discouraged playgoers—and they have lately had reason to be discouraged—may now turn to the Selwyn Theater with new hope. There they will find a comedy that in any season would have a few rivals, one that is sure to shine brilliantly through the months to come.

"The Circle" is by far the best piece of writing that William Somerset Maugham has yet done for the stage. It is more than that. If we accept the comedy of Shaw, which in any appraisal of the contemporary English stage stand in a class by themselves, it is the deftest, wisest, most searching and true study that has come out of London since Pinero became content to rest upon the laurels he has well won. We would not dare to name another present-day British writer capable of adorning so serious a comment on the perversity of human nature with such amusing cynicism and satirical humor.

Another reason for huge satisfaction in the Selwyn's production of this Maugham play is the almost even perfection of its interpretation. As there is not a trace of tawdry theatricalism in the telling of its true and human story, so is there not a flaw in the easy skill in which its company unfolds it. There was the nicest adjustment of every contributing factor to the general performance. Mrs. Leslie Carter came back to the stage and gave an account of herself that must have been a surprise to those who recall her emotional tantrums of other years. There, too, was John Drew, acting with the ease and skill of the great artist that he is. And there were Ernest Lawford and Estelle Winwood in the other two of the principal roles.

A Vain Object Lesson.

With manners that reflect precisely the class of society with which its story deals, and with dialogue that sparkles with cynical humor, but that never once is marred by an artificial note, Mr. Maugham spreads before the perverse and discontented young Mrs. Champion-Cheney, who is about to take a fatal step, the object lesson of a similar misadventure of 30 years before, which she stubbornly refuses to heed.

In the distant days of blooming youth, Lady Catherine Champion-Cheney had cast off her husband and run away with Lord Porings, who had before him a brilliant career. She had staked all her fortunes on what she believed to be a great and overpowering love—and she had lost.

Circumstances bring back to the country home of the younger Champion-Cheney the mother who had flown away and paid for her folly, the grouchy and sudden companion of her flight, and her husband who comfortably and philosophically survived the domestic tragedy of his early married life. It is the purpose of these whom the years have disillusioned to prevent a repetition of the same folly in the new generation. But young Mrs. Champion-Cheney disregards the lesson of their unhappy experience. In other words, human nature never changes and never is willing to profit by example. Like her husband's mother, who has come back "a ridiculous caricature of a pretty woman grown old," she flits away with the young man with whom she thinks she will find love and freedom, and thus is the circle of Mr. Maugham's cynical story closed.

Drawn From Nature.

The comedy is written in a somewhat bitter vein. From beginning to end it is a serious picture of human nature and its weakness, but its sting is relieved by the humorous sparkle of its cynical dialogue. And its characters are all acted with perfect understanding. Mrs. Carter revealed an unexpected sense of humor as the fated but still frivolous and foolish victim of a romance grown cold. Mr. Drew, as the grumpy disillusioned companion in her folly, was exceedingly effective. Mr. Lawford, as the suave and philosophical elder Champion-Cheney, gave a splendid performance of his sympathetic role, in which there were always the traces of half-hidden humor. Miss Winwood as the perversely stubborn young wife and Robert Rendell as her fussy, egotistical young husband were capital, as was also John Halliday, who stood at the other corner of the domestic triangle.

The audience accepted the play with an enthusiasm that has not been equaled this year. The reception of the comedy and the actors was a happy reminder of the heyday of the Empire, when such brilliant achievements in the art of comedy were more frequent than they are today.

STELLA MAYHEW LEADS ON ORPHEUM PROGRAM

Mary Boland, Maud Muller and Mary Haynes Purvey Emotionalism and Humor.

Women entertainers have full scope for their talents on the current bill at the Orpheum. Stella Mayhew is billed as the headliner. She puts over her monologue and her comings with her usual success, despite the fact that she has made only a few minor changes in her act.
An ambitious effort is that of Mary Boland, once leading woman with John Drew. She is an emotional actress who carries her heart on her sleeve. Miss Boland and her company of three have a sketch called "For Five Thousand Dollars." It shows how a blonde wife with a baby stars can outwit her brunette, private detective husband when preparing to elope with another man.
The characters are all rather soft and the emotionalism is played on a high scale key. J. Barney Sherry, formerly a moving picture star, is in the cast.

Feminism of another sort is exploited by Dixie Norton and Coral McIntosh in their sketch, "23 Washington Square." They have several dialogues before it is disclosed that their real specialty is dancing of the reputed Greenwich Village type.
Their dancing is much better than their singing.
Maud Muller, despite the "handicap of a sprained ankle, injects much merriment into her turn with Ed Stanley. Most of the humor comes from her pointed remarks about the physical discomfort of being hungry. The Farrell Taylor company in "The African Duke" have a turn designed to show the proficiency of a woman harpist and a woman trombone player, with some blackface comedy thrown in for good measure. Mary Haynes puts a great deal of punch into her talking and singing act. Lew and Paul Murdock are nimble dancers, and Rosso is a clever juggler.

RECEIVERSHIP SUIT ALLEGES MISMANAGEMENT OF FIRM

Stockholder in Allan-Pfeiffer Chemical Co. Charges Losses Have Totalled $200,000.

Petition for appointment of a receiver for the Allan-Pfeiffer Chemical Co., 1700 Morgan street, was filed yesterday by W. D. Mahany, who owns 12 1/2 shares of stock and who alleges that formerly 6 per cent dividends were paid, but that he has not received a dividend on this stock in five years.

Mahany charges that the president of the company, Charles E. Lane, has not properly managed the business and that the company thereby suffered a loss of $200,000. He also complains that a valuable asset, the formula for "Lane's Pills," was transferred to a subsidiary corporation, Charles E. Lane & Co., without adequate compensation. Lane, it is alleged, owes the chemical company $2000.

The Court also is asked temporarily to restrain the officers, who, it is alleged, are dominated by Lane, from interfering with the business.
The officers besides Lane who are defendants are E. E. Dennison, A.
H. Mansfield, Theodore Herkert, Thomas H. Forrester, Sam B. Jeffries and Fred Herkert Jr.

Lane was president of the old Union Station Bank when it was closed by the State Bank Commissioner three years ago.

CONGREGATIONAL MINISTERS OPPOSE SOLDIERS' 'PRIZE FIGHT'

Object to Professional Prize Fights for Any Purpose, "In Particular Under Guise of Charity."

A resolution opposing the "proposed prize fight" in the Coliseum Thursday night for the benefit of disabled soldiers, was adopted yesterday by the Congregational ministers of St. Louis and vicinity. The resolution states that the ministers approve everything that can be done for disabled soldiers, either by individuals or by the Government, but that it opposes the holding of professional prize fights for any purpose, "and in particular under the guise of charity."

The resolution says St. Louis does not desire to be known as a city where professional prize fighting is an approved form of public entertainment.

WITHOUT SEEING BABE RUTH

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Sir John Simon, former British Secretary of State for Home Affairs, carried a poignant regret back to England when he sailed on the Aquitania today. He hasn't been able to see Babe Ruth in action.

Speaking of his five weeks' visit to the new world, during which he attended the American Bar Association convention in Cincinnati and the Canadian Bar Association assemblage in Ottawa, Sir John said:
"We're sailing and it's too late."
"For what?" he was asked.
"To see your—er—Babe Ruth perform."
Sir John was tendered a farewell dinner last night by the New York Bar Association.

PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS MAKES PARCELS POST AGREEMENT

Mailing of Packages Weighing Up to 22 Pounds Will Be Possible Under Convention.

By the Associated Press.
BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 13.—Shipment of merchandise packages weighing up to 22 pounds will be possible under a parcels post convention adopted yesterday by the Pan-American Postal Congress, in session here.

The other provisions of the convention were that there would be freedom of transit through contracting countries, that payment of from 20 to 40 cents United States gold would be made by the country of origin to the country of destination on packages weighing from 11 to 22 pounds, and an agreement on the part of the countries of destination not to make more than a single local charge not exceeding 10 cents.

The parcels post agreement provides for the formation of a Pan-American parcels union embracing the United States and all countries of Latin America.

One case cited to show previous agreements were faulty was of a package mailed from the United States containing articles worth 30 cents. They finally cost the addressee more than $4 as a result of various charges. Under the new convention these charges would be replaced by a single charge of 10 cents, making it possible for Americans to carry on business through the mails.

Proposals Would Restore China Rights to Kiauchau Bay and R
in Neutral Zone.

OFFER TO RESCIND 21 DEMANDS OF

Railway From Kiauchau Tainan Would Be Joint Enterprise of Countries.

By the Associated Press.
PEKIN, Sept. 13.—The proposal of Japan sent China for the purpose of reaching a settlement of the dispute over Shantung were made here yesterday. The text, dated from the Chinese text accompanied the copy written in Japanese.

"First—The rights to lease Kiauchau Bay, together with rights of the neutral zone to be to be fully restored to China.

"Second—If the Chinese Government on its own initiative operates the leased territory commercial port, recognizing of residence by foreigners and the carrying on of commercial industrial and agricultural processes and also recognizing the privileges already acquired by foreigners, the Japanese Government will rescind the agreement entered into for the establishment concessions under exclusive juisdiction, and of international status.

"This refers to the agreement of May 25, 1915, regarding the rights of Japan."

Provision for Ports
"The Chinese Government in the interest of trade and residence of foreigners, to operate certain suitable places province of Shantung as commercial ports. The regulations for the drawing up by agreement between the Chinese Government and countries which have interests in the ports."

"3. The railway from Kiauchau Tainan, together with the rights belonging thereto, shall be the joint enterprise of China and Japan."

"4. Japan to relinquish all rights acquired by virtue of the agreement relating to the leased territory of Kiauchau. Japan to relinquish rights acquired in 1915, 1917 and 1918 agreement."

"5. Preferential rights in the Hau-Hsun-Teh and the Weihsien Railway shall be conferred by Japan to the joint enterprise of the new banking concern. (These are projected plans.)"

"6. The Ting-Tao customs shall be recognized as part of the customs, in the same manner during the German regime."

"Public Buildings to China and Japan."

"7. Regarding the disposal of buildings and properties, the Chinese Government shall be relinquished to China, but a special agreement shall be entered into for the future maintenance of the works."

"8. Details for the carrying out of the above provisions and matters relating thereto shall be settled by delegates appointed by the Chinese and Japanese governments."

"When the Chinese Government gives public notice of the agreement of a special force to Kiauchau-Tainan Railway, the Chinese Government shall immediately the withdrawal of troops and transfer responsibility for protection of the railway to China."

Japanese Delegation Presents Proposals at Dairen Conference

By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, Sept. 13.—The Japanese delegation to the conference with representatives of the Far East public of Siberia in Dairen has advanced five proposals, according to special dispatches from Dairen city.

1. The organization of a syndicate of Japanese traders to do business in Russia.

2. The establishment of a Russo-Japanese bank.

3. Recognition of Japan's rights in Siberia.

4. Lifting the embargo on the export of gold and furs and a cancellation of customs tariffs.

5. Free navigation of the Amur and Sungari Rivers.

The correspondents believe that a likelihood of an agreement reached on these proposals is very small.

The recently organized Far East News Agency says an agreement may shortly be reached at the conference. Both Japan and Russia are expected to be present.

PEKIN, Sept. 13.—The proposals of Japan to China for the purpose of reaching a settlement of the disputes over Shantung were made public here yesterday. The text, translated from the Chinese text which accompanied the copy written in Japanese, is as follows:

"First—The rights to lease Kiauchau Bay, together with rights and privileges of the neutral zone, are to be fully restored to China.

"Second—If the Chinese Government on its own initiative opens the whole of the leased territory as a commercial port, recognizing liberty of residence by foreigners and of the carrying on of commercial, industrial and agricultural projects, and also recognizing the rights and privileges already acquired by foreigners, the Japanese Government will rescind the agreement formerly entered into for the establishment of successions under exclusive jurisdiction, and of international concessions.

"It is expected that the new distillation plant of the company, which has just now begun to operate, will provide a much higher grade. The big new fuel oil boat, 'The Pioneer', of the Northern Trading Co., which made its maiden trip to the well on this crude oil and returned on it, had 2500 gallons loaded in her storage tanks when she left the well.

in the interest of trade and for the benefit of foreigners, to open herself to certain suitable places in the port of Shantung as commercial ports. The regulations for these will be drawn up by agreement between the Chinese Government and all nations which have interests there.

rights belonging thereto, shall become the joint enterprise of China and Japan.

tial rights acquired by virtue of treaties relating to the leased territory of Kiauchau. Japan under this relinquishes rights acquired under the 1915, 1917 and 1918 agreements.)

"Preferential rights in the Kiauchau-Hsuan-Teh and the Chefoo-Hsuan-Teh Railway shall be trans-cern. (These are projected railways.)

be recognized as part of the Chinese customs in the same manner as during the German regime.

Regarding the disposal of public buildings and properties, the principle is recognized that these are relinquished to China, but a mutual agreement shall be entered into for the future maintenance of all public works.

the above provisions and other matters relating thereto shall be fur-

FORT NORMAN, Northwest Terri-well now down 900 feet deep, drillers at the well of the Fort Norman Oil Co. are expecting a strike. The drillers sunk the 10-inch casing in this well to 491 feet, and when a depth of 100 feet is attained it is expected that the well will be underreamed and more casing sunk. The discovstill producing the high-grade oil which started the rush, though not in the quantities which first wild ru-

NATIONS AGREE ON INVITING HOLLAND

Japan and France Approve of Proposal to Ask Them to Take Part in Discussion of Far Eastern Questions.

OTHER POWERS LIKELY

In Meantime Officials Are Feeling Out Attitude on What Subjects Shall Be Discussed at Conference.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Japan and France have formally given assent to the American proposal that Belgium and Holland, because of their large interests in the Orient, be invited to the discussion of Far Eastern questions at the conference on limitation of armament. Favorable responses from other Powers are expected at the State Department within the next few days, but no formal invitation will go forward until there is unanimous agreement on the subject.

While these negotiations are proceeding, State Department officials are feeling out the attitude of the other participants on what subjects are to be considered at the conference. The British Ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes, conferred with Secretary Hughes today, and it is understood the problem of framing a conference program was considered.

Conferees of a similar nature have taken place between Mr.

intention being to keep the negotia-views of all the interested nations

Methodists Call for Disarmament and Abolishment of War.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 13.—The world's Methodist conference yesterday adopted a resolution calling for international disarmament and complete abolishment of war. This action was taken after a spirited controversy as to whether mention should be made of the League of Nations. The conference finally decided to adopt a resolution which did not mention the league to ask the Business Committee to frame a separate resolution dealing with the league.

The resolution adopted says the conference "Speaking in the name and on behalf of 20,000,000 volunteers, declares without hesitation necessity for international disarmament and the complete abolishment of war."

"Sitting in the shadow of the most terrible conflict in human history, with its inevitable wastage in human life and property, and with its infinite burden of human sorrow and its burden of suffering, we declare an unmitigated curse to mankind, the resolution continued.

"On behalf of millions of youths who suffered and died, on behalf of millions of homes broken by desement; in the name of the silent multitudes who still suffer, we insist that our statesmen and leaders seek a way for the settlement of international differences by other than arbitration of arms. We repudiate the doctrine that war is a necessity.
Justice, not force, must be the final arbiter of right. Differences must be settled by reason, not by human slaughter."

Underwood Says He Will Accept Appointment as Delegate.

By the Associated Press.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 13.— Senator Underwood, the Democratic leader who has been selected by President Harding as one of the four American delegates to the conference on limitation of armament and Far Eastern questions at Washington, said here yesterday that he would formally accept the appointment as soon as he had received the official notification. He has been on a vacation in the mountains of Tennessee during the congressional recess.

There should not and cannot be any party politics at the conference, Senator Underwood said.

"Party politics," he continued,
"should not be a factor in the conference. When one crosses the three-mile limit going out to sea, then the question becomes an international one."

The Democratic leader asserted it was his belief that the nations at the conference would be willing to make the necessary concessions for an ultimate agreement which would relieve the world of its armament burden and assure peace to "this and future generations."

"I think the four men representing the United States at the conference can stand as a unit on all questions," he said. "The delegation will undoubtedly favor disarmament to an extent that will be real in its effect."

"The problem that confronts us will be to convince the representatives of other nations of the necessity, advisement and effectiveness of the disarmament agreement. Theoretically, none of the great nations of the world today stands antagonis-tically to peace and all would agree theoretically that it is a wise and proper thing to do to reduce the armaments of the world."

to the Washington conference on Far Eastern questions and limitation of armaments in view of the close financial problems.

CALIFORNIA ALIEN
UNCONSTITUTIONAL

State Supreme Court Decision on Statute Unanimous in Case Applying to Japanese and Mexicans.

HELD TO VIOLATE
14TH AMENDMENT

Tribunal Also Finds That the State Law Is in Violation of Treaty Between U. S. and Japan.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—The State alien poll tax law was declared unconstitutional yesterday by the State Supreme Court in a unanimous decision which held that the measure was in violation of the fourteenth amendment to the United States Constitution and to treaty between the United States and Japan.

The decision ordered the dismissal of Heikichi Terui, an Oakland Japanese resident, and Guillermo D. Kot-ta, a Mexican resident of San Francisco, who were arrested to test the law.

The Court held that as far as Kot-ta is concerned the law is in violation of the fourteenth amendment of the United States Constitution, which provides that there shall be no discrimination in taxing residents of the United States. Touching on the case of the Japanese it said:

"In view of the provisions of the existing treaty between the United States and Japan, the alien poll tax is ineffective for any purpose with relation to any citizens of Japan."

The law, a State constitutional amendment, was accepted by the people in the general election of November, 1920. It imposed an annual poll tax of $10 on all alien residents of the State between the ages of 21 and 60. The decision held that the contention of the State that the Government exceeded its authority in deleting through the treaty that aliens cannot be discriminated against, has no justifiable basis, "but that the treaty-making power includes such matters as the ones covered by the provisions here involved and cannot be seriously questioned," the Court held.

The powers of the Government are delegated by the states, the decision held, but in treaty making the Government is supreme.

Argument on the law was heard before the court on Sept. 6.

By the Associated Press.
MELILLA, Morocco, Sept. 13.— Occupation of Suk-el-Arba, and the village by the same name, has been announced in an official statement issued here relative to the offensive began two days ago. Under cover of the guns of the Spanish naval squadron, the infantry and cavalry swept forward and dispersed the enemy.

Nador, a town southwest of here, which was the key to the Moorish positions around this city, was abandoned by the Moorish tribesmen when the offensive began. The tribesmen are reported to have sustained heavy casualties.

Work of Exploring Cahokia Mounds Will Be Started by Eastern Scientist Tomorrow

W. K. Moorehead Will Do Preliminary Excavation With Former Service Men Pending Arrival of Aids.

W. K. Moorehead, archaeologist, who has been appointed to explore some of the Cahokia mounds near East St. Louis, departed for the mound group this morning after spending the night in St. Louis and will begin preliminary work tomorrow morning, with the aid of a few former service men, pending the arrival of trained men who are on their way from Massachusetts by automobile.

Moorehead, who is an exchange professor of archaeology and associated with Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., is acting for the Illinois State Museum at Springfield and in the interest of scientific institutions. It is hoped that the excavations will divulge more definite information concerning the mound buildings and on the bluffs toward Moorhead today.

"Several of my men, who have been trained in this line of work, are on their way from Massachusetts by auto. On their arrival it is pur-posed to begin digging. In the meantime, with two or three ex-service men, I shall start light work Wednesday morning and inspect the surface where the ancient wigwams of these people are supposed to have stood. It is desired to find ash pits, for in them we are able to secure all sorts of material of value to science.
Ashes have a wonderful preservative quality, and charred fabrics and vegetable matter are often found in ashpits. It is therefore necessary to locate such deposits very carefully by trowel.

"Most important of all are the skeletons. No one ever secured a skeleton of the Cahokia people. If we are able to take out some of these, they will be studied and measured by Dr. Alec Hrdlicka, the anatomist of the Smithsonian. He may be able to reconstruct the physical type of the Cahokia men and women.

"Some fragments of pottery found by the Ramey brothers were examined by me this morning. They indicate that the pottery made use of these people is different from that of the middle Mississippi Valley. It is not like the ceramic art of the Ohio Valley. By all means we should attempt to find the pottery in connection with the mounds, and if we can be restored. There are two places where copper has been heated and worked into hatchets or ornaments. These are the Ramey furnaces and should also be carefully investigated.

"From this brief account it will be observed that the work undertaken is not only difficult but cannot be completed this fall. The best we can hope for is a proper beginning.

Museums Are Interested.
Museums and individuals all through the Middle West as well as the East are interested in the work.
I have been appointed to act for Dr.
Cronk of the State Museum of Springfield, Ill., and the finds will be shipped to him, except some which Messrs. Ramey would like to retain.

"We have raised over $1700, but of the money only $100 has come from Illinois and Missouri. As the people of this region will benefit more from the researches than people of the East, it is to be hoped that their contributions will be more generous."

"Aside from the survey—which is certainly a necessary preliminary step, this should comprehend all the work in an area of seven or eight miles. This can be done by Clinton Cowan, formerly surveyor of Cincinnati, and late Highway Commissioner of Ohio. Mr. Cowan is familiar with Missouri and Messrs. Ramey offered to come out and do this work in the interest of the cause.
Such a map will be of value when the subject of the State Park is presented to the Legislature at its next session."

CHARGES VETERANS' BUREAU OF MADE FOOTBALL OF POLITICS

Medical Adviser Declares Plumbers and Policemen Are Substituted for Scientific Men.

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 13.—Dr.
Haven Emerson, medical adviser of the Veterans' Bureau at Washington, charged in a speech before the Mississippi Valley Conference on Tuberculosis here last night that the newly organized Veterans' Bureau was "being made the football of politics," and announced that he had tendered his resignation as medical adviser, effective Sept. 15.

"Plumbers and policemen," Dr.
Emerson declared, "are being substituted for scientific medical men in the Soldiers' Bureau at Washington," which, he said, had been taken over from the Public Health Service and was being handled as a political organization, much after the fashion of Grand Army of the Republic politics.

"Unnecessary salaries to the ex-

ROAD'S VALUATION PROTESTED

Southern Railway Co. Says Figure Fixed Is Too Low.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The tentative valuation of the Kansas City Southern Railway Co., fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission at $49,485,907, was held in a protest filed with the commission today by the road to be "wholly inadequate and insufficient to represent the value of the carrier's properties."

The protest said that giving particular consideration to earning capacity "present and prospective," the road was worth from $75,000,000 to

JOHN BASSETT
MOORE FAVORED
FOR WORLD COURT

Delegates at Geneva Predict He Will Get All South American Votes and European Support.

ASSEMBLY TO VOTE
TOMORROW AT 10 A. M.

Austria's Request for Intervention With Hungary Over Burgenland to Be Held in Abeyance.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Sept. 13.—Many delegates to the Assembly of the League of Nations in session here, predicted today that John Bassett Moore will be elected Judge of the Court of International Justice by a large majority tomorrow. It is declared that nearly all the votes from South American countries will be cast for him and that he will get the support of Great Britain, Japan, Italy, France, Canada and China. V. K.
Wellington Koo, head of the Chinese delegation, is one of his most active supporters.

The assembly today plans to complete the debate on the report of the secretaries of the League of Nations and to vote on the report of the Austrian request for intervention with Hungary over Burgenland, a strip of territory along the frontier of these two countries, which will be held in abeyance by the Council.

Vote Tomorrow Morning.
President Van Karmbeck announced this morning that the voting on the report of the secretaries will begin at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The principal Powers—Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and the United States—are conceded one Judge each.

The completion of the list of 15 Judges, however, will require prolonged balloting, in the opinion of most observers.

The Assembly yesterday heard a great deal about the United States and the proposed conference at Washington in November in connection with the league work on disarmament and also with reference to criticism in America of the work of the league. It was the most picturesque session of this meeting.

Indian Lawyer on Floor.
Srinivasa Sastri, a native Indian lawyer, wearing the Indian costume and speaking perfect English, with an eloquence seldom equaled by English orators, had the floor at the morning session. He suggested that the United States might do something more practical than merely criticize what the league was doing or had failed to do. He touched lightly on the race question in connection with mandates, hinting at a difference of views on the question between India and her sister dominion, South Africa, which is one of the mandatory Powers.

Count Gimeno, a Spanish delegate, stirred the South Americans by his praise of the league's work. Count Gimeno spoke in Spanish, which was the first time this language was used on the floor of the Assembly.
His speech later was translated into English and French.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS IN SOUTH REPORTED IMPROVED

Demand for Credit Decreases, Reports to Reserve Board and Treasury Department Show.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Conditions throughout the South now reflect a greatly improved tone, officials said last night, both the treasury and the Federal Reserve Board reporting a lessened demand for credit from that section. The view was expressed by high treasury officials that the purchasing power of the South should be sustained through the winter as a result of the improvement in the cotton market.

Better business in the South, it was asserted, could be expected to have its effect upon the country generally, and by a reduction in the credit needs of the cotton states make available more money for other sections. In coal and steel, however, according to the treasury, little improvement is in sight at present.
Orders are few in these industries, officials said, with little prospect of betterment.

BUDENZ MADE ASSISTANT EDITOR OF "HUMANITY"

Former Secretary of St. Louis Civic League Joins Staff of New Magazine.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Louis F. Budenz, former secretary of the St. Louis Civic League, has just been appointed assistant editor of a new national monthly magazine, Humanity. It is announced here. The aim of the magazine will be "to deal with the practical help which modern psychology and technology can give on the problems affecting the workers' every-day lives, and to indicate what technicians can learn for their own good from the experience of the organized workers." Its editor and founder is Prince Hopkins, millionaire clubman and radical, formerly of Los Angeles.

Budenz, during his five years as secretary of the St. Louis Civic League, took an active part in the long-drawn-out street railway fight there, which culminated in the campaign to recall the Mayor. He was also active in efforts for a new State Constitution, for the enlargement of the boundaries of the city, and served as arbitrator in several labor disputes. Before going to St. Louis he was editor of the Carpenter, official organ of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. He has just concluded a six months' study of technical problems connected with public ownership of public utilities, with Dr. Delos F. Wilcox.

FOUR FEDERAL PRISONERS MAY BE DEPORTED TO RUSSIA

War Law Violators Would Get Freedom If They Remained Out of United States.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Communitation of the sentences of four Federal prisoners convicted of offenses against the war laws, conditioned upon their deportation to Soviet Russia, was understood today to be under consideration by Government officials.

The prisoners were said to be Jacob Abrams, Samuel Lipmann, Hyman Lackowsky and Mollie Stiemer. They were convicted, it was said, for activities against the draft act during the war. The three men are imprisoned at Atlanta and the woman at Jefferson City, Mo.

Should such action be decided upon, it was explained, the prisoners would not be pardoned, but their sentences would merely expire upon condition of their going to Russia and not returning to this country. Should they return, it was asserted, they would render themselves liable to imprisonment again.

While any administration action in connection with the three men and the woman, it was declared, would not indicate any general policy in connection with the war law offenders, however, it was intimated that a number of the approximately 300 prisoners now serving sentences for these offenses are foreign-born and their deportation might solve the problem of their ultimate treatment by the Government.

SALVATION ARMY SERVES LUNCH TO JOBLESS VETERANS

Sandwiches and Coffee Provided at C. of C. Bureau—Chamber Gives Temporary Salaries.

The serving of sandwiches and coffee to the former service men who are awaiting jobs at the employment bureau conducted by the Service Men's Relief Committee in the Chamber of Commerce Building, was begun today by the Salvation Army under the direction of Commandant S. Johnson and Mrs. R. Fitch. About 200 men were served at noon today.

On the recommendation of Melville L. Wilkinson, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Committee on Employment, the chamber has provided temporary salaries of $15 a week for Edward Ferguson, manager; Joe Ellsworth, secretary, and A. A. Abner, chairman of the employment bureau, until further arrangements for financing the bureau can be made. These men had been working without pay. Further assistance has been given to the bureau in the form of donations of furniture and supplies.

A telephone switchboard has been installed in the office for the use of the Service Men's Relief Committee, together with the employment bureau of the Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross, which are affiliated with it. The number is Olive 4585.

The bureau has been placing men in jobs at the rate of about 10 a day. More than 500 men have been placed since Aug. 27, when the bureau was opened.

Kato Says Japan's Latest Proposals on Shantung Show Weakness.

By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, Sept. 12.—Viscount Kato, who was Foreign Minister when Japan's 21 demands were formulated, declared yesterday that Japan's latest overtures for the restoration of Kiauchau savored of anxiety to settle the Shantung problem prior to the Washington conference by offering as lenient terms as possible through fear of intervention by a third party.

"The Cabinet's attitude on Shantung," said Viscount Kato, "is a silent but eloquent confession of diplomatic incompetency."

RENT BOOSTED 65 PCT.; FAMILY TO QUIT CITY

Two-Year Lease at $140 a Month Demanded for Apartment, Now $85.

F. E. Newbery, president of the F. E. Newbery Electrical Co., contracting engineers, has sent to the Post-Dispatch a copy of a letter he wrote recently to the real estate firm of Oregon E. & R. G. Scott, in which he states that he will discontinue his residence in St. Louis, because his rent has been increased from $85 to $140 a month on an apartment at 533 Clara avenue, for which he formerly paid $65 a month. The firm of which Newbery is head has offices in seven other cities. His letter to the Scott firm follows:

There is no use waiting the time limit of five days given me in your letter of Aug. 31 for final decision on the raise in rent you propose of $75 per month, and a two-year lease. You can have my answer now.

Such a demand I consider most exorbitant for this five-room apartment at 533 Clara avenue, particularly since they are cheaply built, run-down and very unclean.

Calls Increase Unwarranted. We have been tenants since the opening, have uncompromisingly accepted successive raises in rent from $65 to $70 and $85 per month, and are now confronted with an unwarranted raise to $140 per month.

Such a procedure I am bound to consider outrageous—little short of highway robbery, and as taking advantage of the public on account of the scarcity of dwelling accommodations in the city at this time.

Avariciousness of this kind should be considered distinctly detrimental to St. Louis, and some action taken to compel a realization of the necessity for reducing high cost of living, and getting back to normal conditions, instead of raising rent 65 per cent.

When I tell you the rentals as proposed now constitute approximately 50 per cent per annum on the original investment, I am not wide of the mark.

Time to Call Halt. I am well aware that these buildings have been sold and resold several times, returning large profits and commissions to yourselves, and it is about time a halt be called on this kind of profiteering.

You may send "For Rent" signs, and take our apartment from Oct. 1, even though lease does not expire until Nov. 1. One more family will move away from St. Louis.

I am sending a copy of this letter to the present lessor, Josephine A. Scannell, as well as to the Post-Dispatch, a paper having the welfare of the city at heart, in order that they may be advised.

An inquiry at Newbery's office, in the Century Building, brought the information that he had departed for the Pacific Coast to remain during the winter, and that his wife was packing the furniture of the apartment, preparatory to joining him.

Statements in Letter Confirmed. R. G. Scott of the Firm of Oregon E. & R. G. Scott, confirmed to a reporter that the rental of the apartment occupied by Newbery had been increased to $140 a month and that a two-year lease would be required.

"The apartment is six rooms, including a sleeping porch and sun parlor, and two baths," Scott said. "It is so arranged that both the sleeping porch and sun parlor have front exposure in a section composed of the highest priced real estate for apartment purposes in St. Louis. It is surrounded by apartment buildings in which rentals are, for the most part, higher than asked for the apartment in question. The old lease was negotiated at a time when rentals were lower. The increase at this time was made to bring the rental on a level with those in the immediate vicinity."

In response to a question whether the conditions he recited were alone responsible for the increase, Scott said: "We believe that real estate rentals are governed by the law of demand."

Assessed at $64,100. R. G. Scott said that the property, which contains 15 apartments, nine of which rent for $50 a month, is valued at $100,000, and that the annual income at the present scale is about $18,500. The records of the Assessor's office show that the property is assessed at $64,100, of which $48,000 is for the improvements.

The records of the Register's office show that the holder of record is Miss Josephine Scannell, a stenographer in the Scott office, who also is holder of 12 other pieces of property in the city. Scott said that she was a "straw man," the actual owner desiring to remain unknown.

The last transfer of record was made in 1918, when Oliver P. Langan sold the property, the consideration stated being nominal. Before this transfer was made apartments at 533 Clara avenue were rented for $60 a month. The new owner immediately increased the rent to $80 a month, under two-year leases, and as these leases are now expiring, has advanced the rent to $140 a month.

The apartment was erected in 1913 at the time another similar apartment on an adjoining lot was erected. The building permit for the two buildings was $70,000. The property was transferred in 1916, the consideration named being $50,000.

Complaints of additional rent increases this autumn are being made by tenants throughout the city. Hills designated to curb rent profiteering were introduced at the special session of the Legislature this summer, following the aldermanic investigation in St. Louis, but none was passed. The measures were passed in the House of Representatives, but failed in the Senate.

U. S. INFANTRY RIFLE TEAM HAS SMALL LEAD

By the Associated Press. CAMP PERRY, O., Sept. 12.—When firing range of the National Rifle Association tournament here, today, the United States Infantry team was leading with a total of 1172 out of a possible 1200. The team scored 591 in the 500-yard range and 581 in the 300-yard range. Today's work was on the 300-yard range. The United States Cavalry team was second with 1168, and the Navy third with 1165.

McCORMICK STOPPED BY BECKETT IN THE 12TH; ENGLAND DISAPPOINTED

(Copyright, 1921.) LONDON, Sept. 12.—"Boy" McCormick, after a great effort in the first five rounds, was so badly knocked out by Joe Beckett in the 12th round at Covent Garden last night that, at the end of the twelfth, his seconds threw a towel into the ring and retired their man. Beckett thus retains the heavyweight championship of England.

Baseball for Mexico.

By the Associated Press. BALDWIN, Tex., Sept. 12.—Contrary to the terms of the agreement made by the Dallas and San Antonio baseball clubs to play a six-game series at the Dallas club from B. Newman, the series will begin on Sept. 15 and the two teams will depart for the Mexican capital shortly after the season closes on Sept. 18. The players will receive $5000 and all expenses.

SPORTS THROUGHOUT THE SEAGREY EYES

By Robert Edgren.

HERE are a few interviews I've had lately with famous fighters, that show how the man in the ring thinks.

Jim Jeffries, talking about Dempsey and other champions, said: "A man must have natural knock-out fighting to become a real champion. The only champion I ever knew who was taught fighting in a gymnasium was Jim Corbett. He wasn't a natural fighter, and it showed in his record. After winning the title from Sullivan he never did any fighting worth mentioning and was beaten by several men."

"Even when I was a boy and trained with him at Carson when he fought Fitzsimmons, he ran away from my punches. When we fought afterward at Coney Island some of the writers around the ringside told how Corbett had cut me to ribbons. That was a joke. There wasn't a mark on me. He didn't hit me a solid punch."

"All he did was dance around and step in and tap, and even while he was tapping he was jumping away. So there wasn't any more than the slap of the glove in his blows. The reason the fight went 23 rounds was I didn't take the fight seriously and didn't train much."

"I chased Corbett for a few rounds and got winded trying to catch him. I eased up and rested and went after him again in the twenty-third and knocked him out. Now I think I fought he didn't run so fast and it would have been easy to knock him out in a couple of rounds."

Loafed to Tease Fitz. "I let him stay to the tenth round to tease Fitz, who was in my corner. I had knocked him out in eight rounds, and he was anxious to have me knock Corbett out quicker. He was in a rage because I let Corbett stay longer than he did. I had a lot of fun kidding him. Corbett wasn't dangerous. He couldn't hit hard enough to hurt anybody, because he was a gymnasium boxer and not a real fighter."

"One of the real fighters I met was Joe Choynski. I fought Joe in one of my first fights. Joe was only a little fellow of about 165 pounds."

"I had my jaw well covered and felt safe. Then I found myself on the floor and heard the referee say 'seven'."

"I had dropped that left down, on my guard in a little 12-ounce punch, and caught me on the cheek bone. I was up at 'nine' and, believe me, I watched that left. He never after me like a tiger, but I remember he never landed in on me again and I knocked him out in the second round."

"What was it Sir Walter Scott wrote about the Scotch warriors at Culloden? 'Twas worth ten years of peaceful life—one glance at their array.' As I thought of the boxing was to me, I wouldn't have missed a minute of it for the world."

JOHNSTON PUSHED TO HIS LIMIT TO DEFEAT RICHARDS

Former U. S. Tennis Champion Forced to Five Sets to Win Elimination Match.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.—William M. Johnston of California this afternoon defeated Vincent Richards of New York, junior net champion of the United States, in a national championship tournament match, three sets out of five, in one of the most spectacular years of tennis. Johnston conquered after losing the first two sets. Scores, 2-6, 3-6, 6-3, 9-7, 6-2.

Richards, after losing the third set, made a desperate effort to clinch the match in the fourth and carried Johnston, who twice held the senior championship of the country, to three deuces before eventually succumbing. The loss of this set took something from the youthful player, and he faded away before the magnificent game of "Little Bill."

Anderson of Australia eliminated his teammate, J. B. Hawkes, in straight sets by scores of 10-8, 6-0, 6-3.

As the play progressed Hawkes began to lose control of his strokes, while Anderson grew steadier. Anderson made his stand with the score eight games to seven against him and ran out three straight for the first set win.

PIPE LINE ACROSS MEXICO TO BE BUILT

Concession Granted to Los Angeles Man—Project Will Cost $10,000,000.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 12.—Clay T.
Yerby of Los Angeles, Cal., has been granted a concession to construct an oil pipe line from Puerto, Mexico, on the gulf coast, to Salina Cruz, on the shore of the Pacific. Announcement that this concession had been granted was made here last night by J. Flynn, representative in Mexico City of Yerby. It was said the pipe line would follow the Tehuantepec Railroad and that the concession gave Yerby the right to use Federal lands, terminals and port facilities.
Flynn said that more than one pipe line would be laid but that work on the first, a 16-inch line, would begin at once and would be completed within 26 months. The concession will run 18 years after the work of laying the line is completed. Fifty per cent of the capacity of all lines laid under the concession will be operated under Federal regulations governing common carriers, and the remainder of the capacity will be subject to contract by the operating company.

It is estimated that the cost of the work will be $10,000,000, and it is pointed out that by means of the pipe line the time of transporting oil from the east to the west coast of Mexico will be cut down by 11 days, and the distance covered will be 2300 miles less than through the Panama Canal. Not only will the pipe line route provide cheaper fuel for industries in the Mexican Pacific states, but Mexican oil will be placed within easy reach of Pacific and Far East fueling stations.

Some months ago, it was said the United States Shipping Board had made a futile attempt to obtain a similar concession so that it might provide a supply of fuel oil for the Pacific fleet. Yerby and an associate, Hugh B. Evans, also of Los Angeles, are now in New York City, arranging for the construction of the pipe line.

GARMEN'S UNION APPROVE PLAN TO SETTLE O'CONNOR SHORTAGE

Auditor's Report, Showing Embezz-ment of $10,400 by Secretary and Restitution of $6200 Is Read.

At two meetings of Local No. 738, Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, the street carmen's union, held yesterday at 2228 Olive street, the report of the auditor of the international organization, showing that John P.
O'Connor, secretary of the local union, had embezzled approximately $10,400 of the union's funds from January to August, was read, and an arrangement for a settlement with O'Connor approved, as recommended by the Executive Board of the local last week.

The auditor's report showed that O'Connor had made restitution of about $6200, in cash, War Savings Stamps, Liberty Bonds and mortgages, and that he had given a secured note for the remainder, which he promises to take up in a few months.

In view of O'Connor's efforts to reimburse the union in full, both meetings approved a suggestion of Morris Lynch, the auditor, that he be kept on the payroll to assist the auditor in disentangling the affairs of his office, which will be for a few weeks.

O'Connor addressed the men, assuring them he would make good the shortage in full. He was removed as secretary by order of Frank O'Shea, international vice president of the organization, when the shortage was discovered a few weeks ago.

GAINS OF 1 TO 3 POINTS SCORED BY INDUSTRIALS

Rails Fractionally Higher in New York Market at Close —Business Moderately Active—Call Money 5 Pct.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"Trading in the chief financial markets was quieter today than yesterday's weakness. In stocks the tendency was steady after a somewhat irregular opening and business while smaller was still moderately active. Toward the close prices among active industrial amounted from 1 to 3 points, while rails were fractionally higher for the most part, with a few advancing a point or more. Call money which opened at 1/2 per cent was lowered to 1/2 at noon.

"German Mark Firmer.
"A quieter tone and a smaller business characterized the foreign exchange market today. The mark, which fell as low as 93 1/2 cents yesterday, was firmer at 93 1/2 cents.
Cables from London meanwhile asserted the recent weakness was due to the fact that the Germans have been resisting to pay off short term loans secured to meet the August 11 reparations payment. This explanation, everything considered, is a likely one.
The pronounced slump which has developed on the first wave of selling after the successful completion of the late payment must be viewed as discouraging to the German financial authorities. If the latter expected to be able to set marks on a sharp fall in their foreign exchange subsequent to the fulfillment of the first installment of reparation obligations, the result surely is disappointing. This state of affairs readily explains the emanation from Berlin of proposals for a moratorium reparation payments. Any such event is, however, extremely unlikely although modification of the reparation terms is well within the bounds of possibility.
Of the other exchanges sterling was slightly lower being off half cent in the afternoon at 12 1/2, but trading was light. French francs were half point lower at 17 1/2 cents, but Italian lire were up a point at 4 3/4 cents. The Chinese exchange continued strong.

"Wheat Prices Recover.
"Cotton continued to fluctuate, but the range of variation was less than on Saturday. The market showed some signs of a tendency to settle down. Profit-taking and the fact that the tropical situation appears to be drifting away from cotton belts brought an early reaction from 20 to 30 points. With the futures around 18 cents, however, a heavy buying appeared and a rally of about 1 cent resulted. This bulge in turn brought the price of futures back toward the close of the December future still showed a gain of 30 points in Argentine wheat. A report of growth, and better export demand were taken as bullish factors. After some reaction from the heat of the December was 1/2 cent up at 1 1/2.

"There was no great amount of change in the bond market today.
Trading was fairly active, but the price differentials were small and without much significance, except as they showed that the investment demand was still vigorous enough to keep the market around its highest level of the season. Active buying in Southern Railway 4 1/2 put them across the board. These bonds are now up points from their low of the year, but are still about 2 points beneath their January high. Railway issues as a rule were not changed, however.
Southern Pacific convertible 4 1/2 were a fraction higher, while Baltimore & Ohio 5s, Missouri, Kansas & Texas 4s and Baltimore & Ohio 4s were a bit lower.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The various markets were engaged in partially undoing the losses of yesterday throughout the greater part of the session today.

"There was again evidence of pools and of large operators working the long side. These operations were by no means general, but were limited to a carefully selected list of securities. Not only were these selections the first to turn upward after the early period of uncertainty, but they were the ones reported most in demand in the privilege market.

Physical Fitness Aid to Happy Marriage

Eugenic Mating Discussed by Woman Who Has Studied the Question

By FAY STEVENSON.

EUGENIC marriages to be ideal must, of course, have their mental as well as physical attributes. Where you get this combination you have your Utopia—the land of marriage.

It is what Miss Rose Rothstein, assistant to the staff of Discussion Bureau of New York told me after she had spent a day in the Criminal Courts studying up a shoplifting case. I asked her to talk on the subject of eugenics and marriage.
Where you get this combination you have your Utopia—the land of marriage.

It is true that no two people on earth could be happily married merely on physical points, said Miss Rothstein. There must be a mental union, too, but it is also true that many couples are first drawn together through physical attraction. Because a young lady has beautiful hair or interesting eyes, she may be attracted to a young man frequently before he shows her her mental qualities.

It is also true with the average young woman, who first admires a man for his broad shoulders, his eyes, or his keen, well-chiseled features. So you see in a way the physical does play a most important role in love.

Therefore, since young couples are first attracted to each other through their physical charms, it is probable that the eugenics movement should be taught that the physical is very important.

It is at this stage that they should be taught the importance of being a physically fit mate.
The youth should be taught that the physical is very important.

It is not only clean, healthy offspring, but it means health and vigor for the individuals.
The girl must not be kept too long. She should know that in order to have healthy, normal children, she must select a healthy, normal man for her husband. If she chooses a husband whose blood is not pure, she is sure to have a family with many physical defects.

THE TOWN PUMP

The Sleeping Companion By H. C. BAILEY

A Detective Story in Five Daily Installments.

(Copyright, 1921.)

SECOND INSTALLMENT.

Two men bustled in. A hand tapped Reggie's shoulder. "Now, sir, if you please."

Reggie stood up and confronted a pompous, portly little man.

"I am Dr. Fortune," Reggie said.
"Miss Bolton was a patient of mine."

"Was," said the little man, with emphasis. "She is a case for an expert now, Dr. Fortune."

"That's why I was examining her," said Reggie sweetly. "The little man laughed. 'A general practitioner is not much use to her now. I rather beyond you, isn't it?'"

"Well, I've not made up my mind," Reggie said.

"Don't worry. Don't worry," he waved Reggie off, but Reggie did not go. "You'll only be in our way, you know. We'll let you know if we want you at the house. Just for formal evidence." Still Reggie did not move. "I am the divisional surgeon, sir," said the little man loudly.
"I was wondering who you were."

The little man swung round.
"We'll have the room cleared, inspectors," he said.

"Zeal, all zeal," Reggie murmured, and went.

There were two doors to the room. He did not use that by which they had come, but the other. He tapped to know that it opened into Birdie Bolton's bedroom.

There was someone in the bedroom. A startled face peeped round the screen by the bed. It belonged to a smart lady's maid.

"Dear me, I thought this was the passage," Reggie said.

"It is Miss Bolton's bedroom—poor Miss Bolton." The maid had a slight foreign accent.

"Of course it is. And you're her maid, of course. Flora, isn't it?"

"Yes, sir. Yes, doctor. Ah, you have seen Miss Bolton! You cannot do anything—no?"

"Miss Bolton is dead, Flora."

"She was so fond of her," Flora sighed.

"Well, I liked her. I suppose you heard tonight last night?"

"Ah, no. She have sent me to bed. And I was so sound."

Reggie nodded. "It's a bad business, Flora. Take me to Miss Weston's room, will you?"

"Miss Weston? Ah! Flora said, with tragic intensity.

"H'm. You think she—"

"I do not think. I feel," Flora said.

"It's a bad habit. Well,"

And Flora led the way. She was a plump woman of some age, but still comely enough in a dark, heavy fashion.

A tap at a door. "It is the doctor, Miss Weston, from Flora. A sullen voice. "You can come in," and in Reggie went.

May Weston was a squallid sight.
Her natural prettiness, the prettiness of fresh youth, the bloom of pink and white, the grace of full, soft limbs had all gone from her. She lay a shapeless heap on her bed, her evening dress still on and all crushed and crumpled and awry, her yellow hair half down and tousled, her face of a bluish pallor.

"What do you want?" She stared at Reggie heavily.

"Well, this won't do. So why Reggie smiled cheerfully, and sat down beside the bed. "So why are you like this?"

"Have you heard?" she cried.
"I've heard and seen," Reggie said.
"I can't do any more for you."

"You saw—or you dreamed—who I'm not ill."

"Well, you never know," he let her wriggle go and bent over her.
"Sleep rather sound, don't you?"

"Oh!" She shuddered. "Why do you look at me like that?"

Reggie bent suddenly closer, and as suddenly sat up again. Then he laughed. "Like what, my dear?"

She stared at him and her lip quivered. "You—you! Oh, do you think I can be mad?"

Reggie shook his head. "Let's begin quite at the beginning. Let's preserve absolute calm. You dined with Miss Bolton last night alone?"

After dinner you went to her bedroom? That would be about 9?"

"Yes, yes. Mr. Ford came just after the coffee."

"Ah! And who is Mr. Ford?"

May Weston blushed abundantly.
"We—he has been here a good deal," she stammered. "Oh, Dr. Fortune, it isn't his fault."

"Young or old, rich or poor—what is he?"

"Of course he's young. I suppose he's rich. His father makes engines or something in Leeds, and he is in the London office."

"Sounds solid," Reggie agreed.
"And who does Mr. Ford call at 9 p. m.?"

Miss Weston's blushes were renewed. "He has been very often," she said, and wrung her hands. "I shall have to tell, doctor, shan't I?"

Yes. He met Miss Bolton once at supper and then he used to come here."

"Ah! Good-looking fellow, is he?"

"Oh yes. He is very big and handsome."

And Miss Bolton liked him. Well, Reggie understood now why poor Birdie Bolton had been dreaming dreams of nights.

"Yes," said May Weston faintly.
"Oh, it's a shame! But I must tell you, she thought he came to see her; but—"

"But it was really to see you. Now, let's get back to the coffee."

"He came last night. We were so late. Miss Bolton—oh, poor Birdie!"

"We can't undo that, my dear.
Let's do what we can for her. Did he stay late?"

"Rather. I don't know. I was sleepy. But Birdie was so late. And then—and then he went away and Birdie began to talk about him. I don't know how it happened. She said something—and I felt I just had to tell her—I told her he had proposed to me. And then she was furious. Oh, have you ever seen her in one of her rages? She was terrible. She said dreadful things. And Uncommon Sense

—By—
John Blake

There Are Many Kinds of Snobbishness.

ALL snobs do not live in big houses and ride around in taxis. Some of them don't know where their next meal is coming from, yet they are snobs, nevertheless.

A snob is a person who, for some reason best known to himself, thinks he is better than other people.
Necessarily he has to admit a few others to his society. Man, even when he is a snob, has to have company.

But there are snobs who are coal miners, and snobs who are hod carriers, and hundreds of thousands of snobs who are hotel clerks and butlers and hotel waiters.

The little colored boy who gets an old red vest to wear becomes instantly a snob, and is intolerant and haughty in his manner toward all the little colored boys of his acquaintance.

In a little Western town, three boys who had been to Chicago, became hopeless snobs and looked down with pitying contempt on all the other boys in town because none of them had ever been more than 50 miles from their village.

But presently another boy went with his parents to California, and thereafter he became the chief snob of the place.

There is really no reason at all for snobbishness, neither the ordinary kind which comes with wealth, nor the particularly stupid sort called intellectual snobbishness.

The educated man ought to know better than to be a snob. But he very frequently does not.

He despises the man who pronounces a French word in the American fashion. A person who doesn't know what a logarithm is despises his neighbor. He laughs himself ill because a neighbor thinks the inventor of the wireless telegraph was named Macaroni.

THE snob gets very little out of life compared to what he ought to get. He misses the wisdom that resides in hundreds of his betters who do not happen to have lived the same life or have done the same things that he has done.

The city man is a snob at home too often, and when he gets to the country he discovers that it is the countryman who is a snob, and he is regarded as the inferior.

It will pay you to take stock of yourself and discover just why you think you are better than other people. You may find that you are just a snob, and if you are, if this cures you, so much the better for you.

It struck her in the dream."

"Oh, I don't know. It was just like a dream when you can't tell. I knew it was Birdie. But was it me killed her?"

The door was flung open. The detective inspector strode in. "May Weston?" He was more the policeman than ever.

Reggie stood up. "How civil you are!" he said.

"You make yourself very busy."

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT IN YOUR HOME

"Towel Back Stretch" Exercise Reduces Fat Shoulders and Back.

By DORIS DOSCHER

(Copyright, 1921.)

EXERCISES for reducing the arms, legs, chest, abdomen, back, indeed every part of the body, are included in those which I have given you on this page, to be practiced when you arise in the morning. The next step in your day's routine should be the bath and the shower, and these sites of the toilet are not only conducive to your general health but may be made a definite part of your reducing program and of your quest for beauty.

The "Towel Back Stretch," illustrated in today's article, is splendid for reducing unsightly fat shoulders and a fat, rounded back.

After having given the body a good lather for cleansing purposes, followed by a rinsing shower,
which has a stimulating effect, you are ready for gymnastics with the bath towel. To overcome the chill of the cold shower, take the towel in the hands as in illustration No. 1. As one hand holds the towel above the other hand, grasp the opposite hip. Pull the towel vigorously down until you assume the position in illustration No. 2; then pull up again. This movement will not only dry the back, which is so difficult to reach otherwise, but will cause the blood circulation which will overcome that prevalent complaint, pimples on the back.

Such rubbing also stimulates the circulation over the spine. Nervous people will be particularly benefited by this simple exercise because it circulates the blood more rapidly to the nerve centers. The obese and round shouldered find that this exercise loosens the fat from the shoulder blades so that they will be able to stand straight without that tedious round back which is a sign of maturity.

To have this "Towel Back Stretch" do you the most good you must stand straight and allow the upraised arm to stretch up as high as possible and the opposite arm pull down as far as possible. After pulling the towel up and down several times reverse the motion, having the opposite hand lead.

So many of my readers have asked me what to do for sagging muscles.
Every time during your bath that you use a strong downward motion with the facecloth or the towel you are helping the muscles of your face and body to sag, thereby spoiling their contour. Remember this in your next bath and try to remedy it by using an upward and outward movement that will make the muscles taut.

name for her, and he is not fond of

From her room he went to the telephone in the hall, and there the inspector, still rather flushed, found him again.

"And what might you be doing now, if you please?" said the inspector, with constabulary sarcasm.

"Oh, I'm talking to Miss Bolton's solicitors. Hadn't you thought of talking to Miss Bolton's solicitors?"

"Never you mind what I thought of. Don't you use that telephone again. I won't have it."

"Oh, yes, you will. Now I'm going to talk to Supt. Bell." The inspector was visibly startled. For Supt. Bell was near the summit of the Criminal Investigation Department. "Any objection?" No? How nice of you. . . .
He conferred with the telephone, and at length: "Dr. Fortune. Yes. Oh, is that you, Bell? So glad. I wish you'd come along here. Norman-hurst, Westhampton. One of my patients murdered. No, not by me.
Quite unusual case. Yes, it is the Birdie Bolton case. The inspector in charge is such a good, kind man.
Sweet face he has. You'll come right on? So glad." Reggie put down the receiver and smiled upon the puzzled inspector. "That's that," he said, and went out. Samuel, the chauffeur, put away his picture paper. "I want my camera," Reggie said, and Samuel touched his hat and drove off. Reggie sauntered into the garden.

The Daily Burgess Bedtime Story

The Patience of Black Pussy

By Thornton W. Burgess.

STRIPED CHIPMUNK possesses little patience himself. He is impatient rather than patient. He cannot wait quietly for things to happen; he must keep busy trying to make them happen. There are many people just like him.

But Black Pussy possesses patience, a great deal of patience. The patience of it is that she so often puts it to wrong use. She will sit still, perfectly still, for the longest time on the chance of catching one of the little people of the Old Orchard, the Green Meadows or the Green Forest.
Often she fails, whereas everybody rejoices, but it is not for lack of patience.

When Black Pussy discovered her master, Farmer Brown's Boy, feeding Striped Chipmunk in the path along the edge of the Old Orchard, and that he and Striped Chipmunk were the best of friends she was at once filled with jealousy. She hid in the long grass back of a tree until Farmer Brown's Boy had returned to the house. Then she ran quickly to where he had been sitting and there in the middle of the path she discovered a little round hole.

She didn't have to be told whose hole that was. She knew. Even when she hadn't known the instant she saw it she knew it was his. She saw it as soon as she smelled it.

"Ha, ha!" said she down inside the hole. "So this is where that fellow of low lived! I thought he lived down under the stone wall, but it seems I was mistaken or else he has moved. Well, well, well! This couldn't be better.
I'll have that fellow now and I'll sure as my tail switches. He presently is down in there now and all I need do is to be patient. Sooner or later he'll come out and then I'll have him."

So Black Pussy crouched in the path just a few inches from that little round hole, fixed her yellow eyes on it and waited. She was prepared to wait a long, long time if necessary. She would be patient, very patient. To catch Striped Chipmunk would be worth a great deal of patience.

One, two, three, one, two, three, the minutes slipped away. There was no sign or sound of Striped Chipmunk. The fact is he had stuffed himself so with the good things Farmer Brown's Boy had brought him that he felt lazy and was taking a nap down in his snug bedroom.

One, two, three, one, two, three,
the minutes kept on slipping away.
As black as the blackest of the Black Shadows at night Black Pussy crouched in the path and watched that little round hole. Her feet were gathered beneath her in just the right position for a spring. Only the tip of her tail moved. That twitched from time to time. To save her life Black Pussy couldn't keep the tip of that tail still for any length of time.

Jolly, round, bright Mr. Sun climbed higher and higher in the blue, blue sky and it became hot where Black Pussy crouched. But she didn't appear to mind. She was too intent on what she was doing.
She intended to catch Striped Chip-munk this time and was quite willing to stand a little discomfort in order to do it.

One, two, three, one, two, three,
the minutes slipped away until a whole hour had passed, and still Black Pussy waited patiently.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

JAZZ DYING

A PAINFUL PASSING.

We learn that jazz is dying.
Ternschorsans say
The bray and blare that tear the air Have had their noisy day.
They say that softer music,
With cadence low and sweet, Will soon provide a gentler guide For agitated feet.

The trombone's harsh cadenza, The saxophone's complaint,
The tenor horn which was not born For limit or restraint, Have flourished in their season.
But now, it would appear,
Their tonal war will rage no more To rend the tender ear.

And yet from Coney Island To the Juarez halls,
The trombones groan, the cellos moan,
The oboe shrilly calls,
The trumpet sounds its tocsin.
The kettle drum replies:
On every hand throughout the land Tumultuous sounds arise.

Jazz truly may be dying.
The uproar that assails From far and near the suffering ear May be its parting wail.
Still peals the raucous music, No shrieks or discords barred,
If jazz's day is done, we'll say It's dying mighty hard.

MAKE IT HURT.

One way to stop speeding would be to fine reckless drivers a gallon of gasoline for every person they run down.

NO WONDER.

Uncle Sam has reduced his living costs by six hundred million, but he doesn't have to pay rent in Washington.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 11.—The possibility that charges and bribery would be brought against three Deputy Sheriffs and the title of the Peace of St. Louis was forecast by Attorney Barrett to a Post-Dispatch conference today, at the beginning of the conference between the General and Prosecuting Attorney Mueller of St. Louis County. Prosecuting Attorney Mueller, here by appointment to co-ordinate Attorney-General Barrett and graft conditions in St. Louis County, and it was expected would be closed together part of the day.

Report Made by Investigator. Attorney-General Barrett would turn over to Mueller a report made by Fred M. Tate, an investigator, recently made an inquiry into the St. Louis County, the preferring of neglect charges against Sheriff John Mann of St. Louis County.

The Attorney-General would turn over to the P. Attorney all of the evidence by Tate, who worked in co-operation with Federal prohibition officers. This evidence turned over for use before the county grand jury.

Charges Against Four. "If witnesses bear out the collected by Tate," said the General, "it is almost certain three Deputy Sheriffs and the title of the Peace will be with grafting and bribery."

The liquor-selling and "hiring" cases covered by investigation were turned over to Federal authorities for prosecution. The Attorney-General said graft and bribery cases were being prosecuted by Attorney in the State courts with the operation of the Attorney's office.

The evidence gathered in the last three months by Tate of affidavits and oral statements of a large number of witnesses, some deputies or former deputies, who admit that they have money from "moonshiners" also from a number of who admit paying money to "moonshiners" for a large money.

Money Paid to Police. In another instance, a large sum of money to County politicians for "with the understanding it was to go to a certain official subsequently learned transaction and accused clan of using his name to money. Tate learned. Tate said that the money was turned. The official in question had been received.

Other statements, in which county officials for immunity are in the possession and the Federal authorities. Attorney-General Barrett told patch reporter that Mueller has full use of this evidence in indictments for grafting and bribery.
